VALUABLE HABIT.

One of our most valuable habits in life is that of contemplating every undertaking. The mental disposition in which persons of talents often indulge, and to which they are perhaps more prone than others, is destructive beyond what can be imagined. A man who has lost the power of prosecuting a task the moment its novelty is gone, or it becomes encumbered with difficulty, has reduced his mind into a state of lamentable and wretched imbecility. His life will inevitably be one of shreds and patches. The consciousness of not having persevered to the end of any special undertaking, will hang over him like a spell and will paralyze all his energies, and he will at last believe, that, however feasible his plans, he is fated never to succeed. The habit of finishing ought to be formed in early youth.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"Time speeds—away—away!
Another hour—another day—
Another month—another year—
Drop from us like the leaflet sear;
Its flight produces aching hearts,
The rose-bloom from the cheek departs,
The tresses from the temples fade,
The eye grows dim and strange to all."

'Tis done.—The knell of another year has sounded. The requiem of its joys and its sorrow now floating upon the winds. This then is a season which strongly urges us to pause and reflect. At this period are we invited alike to look back upon the past and forward to the future—to contemplate what we have done and what remains for us to do. And when we may ascertain whether our progress has been advance or retrograde we shall find it of use frequently to put to ourselves the following questions. What have I been doing during the past year? What have I, or my friends, or the world been benefited, by the prolongation of my life during another year? Have I added to my estate, or bettered my condition, by honest industry? Have I been the means of lessening the miseries, or of increasing the happiness of those around me? What advancement have I made in preparing for a future state of existence? It is important that we should be able to give a favorable answer to the above questions; for if we have not been doing good, we have undoubtedly done much injury—if we have learned nothing, we have forgotten much—if we are not better than we were at the beginning of the year, we are certainly worse. He that is wise is wise for himself—but the simple go on to their own destruction.

HINTS TO YOUNG FARMERS.

Consider your calling the most elevated, and the most important; but never be above it, nor be ashamed of the frock and the apron.

Put off no business which ought and can be done to-day until to-morrow.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"Time speeds away—away—away!
Like torrents on a stormy day,
He undermines the stately tower,
Uproots the tree, and snaps the flower,
And tears from our distracted breast
The friends that loved, the friends that blest,
And leaves us weeping on the shore,
To which they can return no more."

Cold and short are the days, and long and dreary are the nights; but since most of our enjoyments spring from contrast, this very cold and dreariness without tends but to increase the satisfaction within at our comfortable firesides. While by the bounties of Providence we are screened from the bleak winds and supplied with food and raiment, let us not only improve the season by profitable conversation, reading and reflection, but let us cherish that diffusive kind of benevolence, which being blessed in receiving is doubly blessed in giving.

This is a short month, and how many there are who make it still shorter by sleep and dissipation. We should all remember that time is a talent committed to us, and for the use of which we must hereafter render a strict account to the Giver. Shall we then waste it in idleness? Shall we trifle it away in vain amusements? But, says one, shall not man be allowed any time to amuse himself? Yea, I would have every man amuse himself, but I would have him seek his amusement in his business. The path of duty is the only path which leads to true and lasting pleasure. But alas! how many people entirely forget this, and seek for enjoyment in useless and forbidden pursuits, and live as if their whole business was to kill time and shun the vulgar business of doing good.

As soon as the spring opens and the frost is out of the ground, put your fences in order.

Plant no more ground than you can well manage and cultivate to advantage.

Never hire a man to do a piece of work, which you can do yourself.

The vernal breeze—the summer's heat—
And mellow autumn's lavish sweet,
Must yield to winter—and again
Must winter yield his proud domain.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"Time speeds away—away—away!
 No eagle through the skies of day,
 No wind along the hills can flee
 So swiftly or so smooth as he,
 Like fiery steed from stage to stage
 He bears us on from age to age;
 Then plunges in the fearful sea
 Of fathomless eternity!"

Winter, which has so long reigned triumphant o'er the conquered year; begins to show indications that his reign is not eternal. The sceptre trembles in the old man's hand like a reed shaken in the wind, and he seems to be sensible that he must ere long surrender his authority and retreat before the triumphant advances of the king of day. Every person who has trees should be in readiness to set about the making of maple sugar. This business has been too much neglected of late. Because the imported sugars have been so cheap many farmers have thought it no object to manufacture sugar for themselves. But how would ask are they to be better employed at this season? The value of all the sugar manufactured at home is saved in the country while the value of that which is imported goes out of the country, and therefore makes it so much poorer. Nor is this all: The use of imported sugars encourages slavery, for nearly all the imported sugar is made by slaves. Let anti-slavery men then show their opposition to the nefarious traffick in human flesh and blood by the encouragement of the domestic manufacture of maple sugar. This too is the season in which the prudent farmer will look forward to the approaching seasons and see what implements of husbandry his business will require, and will employ the present comparative leisure in putting them in readiness.

Every day has its appropriate duties; attend to them in succession.

Keep no more stock than you can keep in good order, and that of the best kind.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"I envy not the mighty king
Upon the splendid throne—
Nor crave his glittering diadem,
Nor wish his power my own,
For though his power and wealth be great,
And round him thousands bow
In reverence—in my low estate
More solid peace I know."

In the various revolutions of the seasons, spring has once more arrived upon our shores, and at its approach all nature is gladdened. From the cold and dreary chaos of winter, a new creation is bursting forth into life. Where late all was stillness and desolation, now is heard the voice of joy and gladness. The husbandman now commences in earnest the labours of the field, committing the grain and other seeds to the mellowed earth, in confidence that the fruits of autumn and the stores of winter will abundantly repay all his anxiety and toil.

If you wish it to be well with you here and hereafter, let the following precepts be engraved upon your mind and delay not to practice them in your lives. 'Practice modesty and you shall not be ashamed—gratitude, and you shall receive favors—charity, and you shall be loved—temperance, and you shall have health—prudence, and fortune shall attend you—justice, and you shall be honored by the world—sincerity, and your own heart shall not reproach you—diligence, and your wealth shall increase—benevolence, and your mind shall be exalted—sincere, and your life shall be useful—religion, and your death shall be happy.' Practice these things, kind reader, and your life shall glide on serenely, your mind shall be unmoved by the petty commotions, which agitate the passions and the voice, and in the end you shall quiet the world in peace and rise to immortality and glory.

Instead of spending a rainy day at the dram shop as many do to their ruin, repair whatever wants mending—post your books.

The new-born spring has now begun
To smoothe the aspect of the skies,
And cheerful now th' advancing sun
Bids joy in quick succession rise.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"I envy not the miser—he
 May tell his treasures o'er,
 May heaps on heaps around him see,
 And toil and sigh for more;
 I scorn his narrow sordid soul,
 Rapacious and unjust;
 Nor bow beneath the base control
 Of empty gilded dust."

O the times! O the manners! No sooner does the snow leave the ground and the gentle zephyrs unlock the icebound glebe, than all the Misses—yea, and Masters too—think they must emulate the plants and insects at this season and rig themselves out in new and parti-colored dresses. New gowns—new bonnets—new handkerchiefs and new jackets are all the cry. The sayings of Poor Richard are wholly forgotten. But as he says it is always true that

This pride of dress is sure a very curse, and what a blessing it would be to the world if mankind generally would take heed to the other line of the couplet in which he says

Ere fancy you consult, consult your purse.

Without regard to parents' circumstances or income, our country Misses manifest much too strong a propensity to ape the fashionables of the city. Their lace, their lawn, their shawls and their leghorn, must not fall a whit below the finest. But this will not do for farmer's daughters. No, my fair friends, let your adorning be healthy countenances and virtuous lives, and instead of aping the extravagance of the votaries of fashion, teach them by your examples that you understand the true glory of an independent people, and that you are always ready to discharge your duty as the daughters of freemen.

Keep a place for your tools—and your tools in their places.

Should you be fond of the chase or the sport with the hook, indulge occasionally, but never to the injury of more important concerns.

The Lark, uprising, tunes his song,
And swells his little notes on high,
The lowing herds the theme prolong,
And praise the God who built the sky.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"My wants are few and well supplied
By my productive fields,
I court no luxuries beside,
Save what contentment yields.
More pure enjoyment labour gives,
Than wealth or fame can bring,
And he is happier who lives
A farmer than a king."

All around is now gayety and cheerfulness. The hill, the dale, the meadow and the wood all, all are teeming with life and activity, and the mingled accents of love and joy—the perfumes of myriads of flowers,—are now borne upon every breeze. How should our hearts glow with gratitude to Him, from whom we derive such a profusion of enjoyment! Instead of a monotonous uniformity, which would soon tire and disgust, the vicissitudes of the seasons present us with unceasing variety—with a constant succession of new beauties—new feelings and new enjoyments. And how delightful at this season of promise is the labour of the field. The landscape is beautiful and the air is balm and melody.

He who keeps pace with his business outruns the sheriff,—yea—effectually too, if he has no bad habits to impede him. Bad habits—alas how much it costs the world to support these burthensome excrescences! What vast sums are annually expended for the support of those nuisances—those engines of disease, of sorrow and of wretchedness—alcohol and tobacco. Ah! and what a saving might be made in health and money by moderating or abandoning the present free use of tea and coffee.

Never trust your money in the hands of that man who will put his own to hazard.

When interest or a debt becomes due, pay it at the time, whether your creditor wants it or not. Never ask him to "wait till next week" but pay it. Never insult him by saying, "you do not want." Punctuality is a key to every man's chest.

Spring still boasts her blossom'd boughs
 Waving in the vernal gale;
 And her songsters warbled vows,
 Echoing down each peaceful dale.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"Sol now advancing hot and high,
Strains every fiery feature,
To make a furnace of the sky,
And of the earth a heater.
From marshes he is prone to suck
Up elements of thunder,
And some folks are with lightning struck,
And some are struck with wonder."

---

This season reminds us of that period which ir-men's souls. Let the returning birth day of our nation awaken in our minds a train of useful reflection such reflection as will enable us duly to appreciate the advantages which we possess over the other nation of the earth, and safely transmit them down to our latest posterity. Let the anniversary be celebrated but instead of making it a day of revelry and drunkenness, let it be a day of sober reflection—a day be employed in instructing the rising generation
the events of our history—in the principles of ci-liberty—and in infusing into their breasts that eleved spirit of patriotism, which glowed in the Ameribosoms in '76.

Hay-making is one of the most hurrying seasons
the year and it is a season which requires not only diligence, but the utmost care and circumspection.
To make hay while the sun shines, is a maxim which is in every body's mouth, but every body does not duce it to practice. Many people are in such a fid-to get done haying before their neighbors that they do not half make their hay, but tumble it into a barn, or stack, green or wet, where it heats and smoland moulds, and what is it good for when win-comes? It has lost one half, or two thirds, of its tritive properties and, moreover, is rendered unwhsome and unpalatable by the fermentation. Hay all means should be well cured; but if the unfavo-bleness of the weather should render it necessary carry in hay wet, or green, intersperse it freely with salt. It may repay you the expense with interest.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"It may very truly be said
That his is a noble vocation,
Whose industry leads him to spread
About him a little creation.
He lives independent of all
Except the Omnipotent Donor,
Has always enough at his call,
And more is a plague to its owner."

He, who sowed in hope, now reaps in fruition. He is now receiving the reward which a bountiful Providence has seen fit to bestow upon his humble confidence and well directed industry. 'Thus is the promise of scripture made good, "that while the earth remaineth, seed time and harvest, and cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night shall not cease." Let your crops be secured as soon as they are ripe. The rains and storms are not far off, and a few days delay may cause a greater waste than twice the expense of securing them.

Particular attention should be paid, at this season, to the preservation of health. 'This is the season for cholera, dysentery and fevers. Be cleanly in your persons and dress—be temperate and regular in your meats and drinks—and avoid exposure to the evening air and to dampness. Beware of eating too freely of fruits of any kind and especially of those which are unripe. Be cautious too in the use of cold water at this hot season. Scarcely a year passes in which individuals do not fall a sacrifice to their imprudence in drinking cold water when in a state of profuse perspiration, and many others lay thereby the foundation of protracted disease and more lingering dissolution. With regard to the use of alcohol, what I say unto you, I say unto all—taste not—touch not—handle not—est in the end you perish in the using.

Never buy any thing at auction because the article is going cheap, unless you have a use for it.

By driving your business before you, and not permitting your business to drive you, you will have opportunities to indulge in innocent diversions.

FARMER'S CALENDAR,

"He works with his hands, it is true,
 But happiness dwells with employment;
 And he who has nothing to do
 Has nothing by way of enjoyment.
 His labours are mere exercise,
 Which saves him from pains and physicians;
 Then, farmers, you truly may prize
 Your own as the best of conditions."

As where there is no fuel fire goeth out, so where there is no talebearer, strife ceaseth. But one tale is sufficient to keep a whole neighborhood in a continual uproar. He can sow the seeds of strife like the Bohon Upas, scatter devastation and death through the sphere of his baleful influence. The body is the most detestable body. Let not the listening ear encourage him, but let him rather be spurned from good society and held up to the contempt and derision of the wise and prudent.

The farmer who has either a sense of duty or interest does not need to be exhorted to diligence. He is not like the lazy ox which needs to be continually pricked and goaded. But the sluggard—what shall I say to him? What shall I say to him who is satisfied to himself a little more sleep and a little more slumber? Can I arouse him?—Can I quicken him? Can he be incorrigible and his case desperate? Oh idleness, too welcome a guest, but, alas, a most dangerous enemy! How many victims dost thou conduct to poverty, to disgrace and to wretchedness! The idle man is always an unhappy man, and he cannot long be an innocent man. The transition from inactivity to industry is direct and easy and scarcely any maxim is better founded than that an idle man's brains are the devil's workshop. Shun idleness then as you would destruction.

Never carry your notes in your pocket book, as a desk or trunk is a more appropriate place. Keep them on file and in order, ready to be found when wanted.

Vie they with the bounteous store
That my teeming fields supply,
When—the golden harvest o'er—
Ascends the shout of grateful joy ?

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"The summer flowers are faded,
The fate of beauty sharing,
And nature, somewhat jaded,
Seems overdone with bearing.
But fruit these flowers succeeding,
The orchardist requiting,
Abundant as in Eden,
Is scarcely less inviting."

There is already a very perceptible abatement in the energies of the vegetable world. The flowers are vanished, the grass is losing its freshness and verdure—the seeds are ripening and returning into the bosom of the earth—the fruits are swelling upon the trees, or mellowing upon the ground, and the forests smitten by the chill blasts of the north and the nocturnal frosts are now putting on their variegated dress of red, and orange and yellow. Delay not to secure the blessings which a bountiful Providence is spreading around you.

Apples which are to be kept for winter's use should be carefully picked from the trees by hand in the middle of the day when perfectly dry, and they should be kept thinly spread in some cool dry place. Even in winter the cooler and drier they are kept, (if not allowed to freeze,) the better they will be preserved. Apples which are to be made into cider should be allowed to lie and become mellow. The cider will be richer, and late made cider ferments slower and will keep better than that which is made early. Suffer not your corn to lie too long in heaps before it is husked, nor even afterwards. Its qualities are materially injured by being in the least heated. Potatoes keep best in a cold moist cellar, well secured from frost, but a little above freezing point as possible. In a warm cellar potatoes will be injured by sprouting, and in a dry cellar they will wilt and diminish in quantity and quality.

Should you think of building a house, be not in a hurry but first have every material on the spot, and let your cellar be as large as the frame.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"The fields how lately studded,
With ears of golden glowing,
And all the land how flooded
With bounties overflowing.
O then a tribute render
To the Almighty Giver,
Of all the heart can tender,
And all the tongue deliver."

Winter is now evidently making advances towards our climate, and the prudent farmer will not allow it to come upon him unawares, like a thief in the night. He will be prepared for his approach. His buildings will be put in order, his windows will be glazed, not stuffed with rags and his cellar will be well secured from the frost. His farming tools will all be placed under shelter, where they will be safe and where they may readily be found whenever they shall be wanted in the spring. A man must save as well as get if he would be a thriving farmer. Not that he may keep every thing for self, but that he may have in his hands the means of doing good. God has blessed the labour of your hands that you have it in your power to reap a double blessing to yourself by blessing others.

Let us, my brethren, reflect a moment upon the source of that abundance, with which our labours have been crowned. It is, indeed, none other than the fountain of our own existence—it is none other than that Almighty Being who upholdeth us and all created things. And can we, in the midst of these reflections, withhold from him a tribute of gratitude? Can we refrain from pouring out our hearts before him in songs of praise and thanksgiving; that our labours have been crowned with success—that our unprofitable lives have been spared—and we are now enjoying favours unnumbered and unmerited? Surely it is a joyful thing to be thankful.

Should you take the New-England Farmer, or any other periodical Journal, pay for it in advance.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

The year declines, and winter comes,
Prepared to storm our quarters,
And bullying Boreas sounds without
Like roar of mighty waters.
'To all who suffer good or bad
Let aid be now extended
For his condition is most sad,
Who has the most offended.'

'If the beauties of the year are so fading, and bounties so soon perish; if the loveliest scenes of nature lose their power to charm, and a few revolving months, or years at most, break the spell that binds to those we love best; if the figure of the earth changed by its own convulsions; if forms of government and of religion, which prevail in one age exploded in another; if nothing on earth or in waters preserves itself unchanged, what is there which remains forever the same? What is there, over which autumnal winds and wintry frosts have no power? What is there, which does not pass away—what proof against the might of the ocean's waves, convulsions of mountains and the fluctuations of man opinion? It is surely the truth of God revealed in his blessed word. It is this which shall not pass away. Through the instrumentality of this

His hand the good man fosters in the skies
And bids earth roll, nor feels the idle whirl.'

As the year is now closing, let us, my friends, endeavour to profit by the instructions which its vicissitudes and changes are calculated to afford. Let us contemplate the period of our earthly existence, in which the varied year is a striking emblem, and the errors of the past make us watchful for the future, and may we all be enabled so to pass through the scenes of life's eventful year, that we may close it in peace, prepared to reap a richer and more abundant harvest of happiness in the regions of immortality.

Never "run into debt" without a reasonable probability of solving it at the time agreed.

And while I autumn's bounties prove,
 And while my breast these bounties cheer,
 My grateful heart shall soar above
 To Him who rules the changing year.

THE UNION.

A brief view of the Union, embracing the settlement, climate, soil, productions, &c. of each state, Governor 1835-state election, and meeting of the Legislatures.

MAINE.

The District of Maine, so called, until it became an independent state in 1820, had been connected with Massachusetts in all its political and social relations. The celebrated John Smith made an unsuccessful attempt to settle this country in 1614. The first permanent lodgment of the whites in this state was made from the Plymouth colony at York, in 1630. Emigration to this state has been more slow than to those of a milder climate; yet perhaps there is no state in the union, that promises more independence from its own natural strength and resources than Maine. Its first settlers were a race of men with good minds, stout hearts and strong arms; by them and their sons the stately forests were converted into an article of commerce, of immense value; thus preparing large portions of the soil for its ultimate staples,—wheat, beef, and wool. The St. Croix, Sheepscot, Androscoggin, Saco and other rivers, with the noble Penobscot and Kennebec, flowing into the sea on her extensive coast, meeting at their mouths many delightful bays, with islands of romantic beauty, where good harbours abound; together with her fine ships, and hardy sailors, give to Maine peculiar advantages for navigation and the fisheries. Portland is the most important mart of trade in this state, and has a fine harbour near the sea. Augusta, at the head of sloop navigation on the Kennebec, 45 miles from its mouth, in lat.  $44^{\circ} 17'$  N. and lon.  $69^{\circ} 50'$  W. is a beautiful town, and is now become the capital of the state. In 1826 there were 138,000 children in Maine, between 5 and 21 years of age, of which about 102,000 attended school. The annual expenditure is about \$138,000.—Every town within the state is obliged by law to raise annually, a sum equivalent at least to 40 cents from each person within the town, for the support of common schools. This State is bounded north west, and north by Lower Canada; east by New Brunswick; south by the Atlantic ocean; and west by New Hampshire. Situated between  $43^{\circ} 5'$  and  $48^{\circ} 3'$  North Lat. and  $70^{\circ} 55'$  and  $66^{\circ} 47'$  East ingitude. Andrew P. Dunlap, Governor. Election 2d Monday in Sept. meeting of Legislature, 1st Wednesday Jan.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

This State was first peopled by Europeans, by virtue a grant from the Plymouth Company to John Mason and Ferdinando Gorges, in 1622. Their first locations were at Little Harbour, on the west side of Piscataqua river, and at Cocheco, now Dover. In 1631 the first house was built at Portsmouth. In 1638 Exeter was settled. In 1641 the first settlers formed a coalition with Massachusetts, and remained connected with that colony till 1679. In 1719 about 100 families from the north of Ireland settled at Londonderry: They introduced the spinning wheel, the manufacture of linen, and the culture of potatoes. In 1776 this colony led the van in forming a constitution of her own, founded on the free franchises of the people. New Hampshire is more mountainous than any of her sister states, yet she boasts of large quantities of luxuriant interval. Her high lands produce food for cattle of peculiar sweetness; and no where can be found the necessaries, conveniences, and luxuries of life, united, in greater abundance; cattle and wool are its principal staples. This state raises annually 30,000 for the support of common schools, and has a treasury fund of a considerable amount derived from a tax on bank capital. This state is bounded north by Lower Canada, east by Maine, south east by the Atlantic ocean and Massachusetts, south by Massachusetts, and west and north west by Vermont. Situated between 42° 42' and 45° 14' North Lat. and 72° 27' and 70° 35' W. Longitude. Badger, Governor. Election 2d Tuesday in March; meeting of Legislature 1st Wednesday in June.

VERMONT.

The territory of this state was originally claimed by Massachusetts, and afterwards both by New Hampshire and New York. In 1777 the people inhabiting this territory declared themselves independent, and formed a government of their own. Although this fourteenth state was not admitted into the union until after the revolutionary contest was over, yet she vigorously resisted British oppression. Bennington, its oldest town, was chartered by Benning Wentworth, Governor of New Hampshire, in 1749. A range of mountains covered with spruce, hemlock and other evergreens divides this state nearly in the centre; hence its name; and hence its epithet "Green Mountain Boys," celebrated for their bravery in the war of independence. This state is very fertile and produces all sorts of grain in great abundance.—Manufactures flourish on many of the delightful streams of Vermont, and its hills produce marble of superior excellence. The state is bounded north by Lower Canada, east by Connecticut river, south by Massachusetts, and west by New York. Situated between  $42^{\circ} 44'$  and  $45^{\circ}$  North Lat. and  $73^{\circ} 16'$  and  $71^{\circ} 20'$  W. Longitude.—Election 1st Tuesday in Sept.; meeting of Legislature 2d Thursday in October.

MASSACHUSETTS.

This state, the parent of all the New England colonies, was first permanently settled by Europeans at Plymouth on the 22d of Dec. 1620, by a sturdy band of 101 independents, the persecuted subjects of King James the first of England. Another colony, under the style of the Massachusetts Bay colony, was planted at Salem in 1628. These colonies remained separate till 1686, when both colonies were deprived of their charters. In 1692 they were united into one colony under a new charter. The country, now the New-England States, was formerly called North Virginia, but owing to the favorable representations of it made by the celebrated John Smith, who visited Massachusetts Bay in 1614, it has ever since, in compliment to its luxuriance and beauty, bore its present name. During the Indian and French wars, Massachusetts expended much blood and treasure; on her soil the first spark of American Independence was lighted, and her arm was the strongest in the combat for its achievement. This state has about 40 millions of dollars invested in manufacturing stock; more than 20 millions of dollars in bank capital, and about 8 millions in insurance stock. A great variety and amount of manufactured articles are exported from this state; also fish, whale-oil, lumber, beef, pork and other productions of the sea and soil. Her literary, religious and charitable institutions are the pride of Massachusetts. Within a few years Boston alone has expended nearly two millions of dollars for objects of that character, exclusive of an annual expenditure of about \$200,000 for the support of public and private schools. This state is bounded north by Vermont and New-Hampshire ist by the Atlantic ocean; south by Rhode Island and Connecticut, and west by New York. Situated between  $41^{\circ} 31'$  and  $42^{\circ}$  and  $53'$  North Lat. and  $73^{\circ}$  and  $17'$  and  $3^{\circ} 48'$  W. Long. Governor, — —. Election 2d Monday in November, meeting Legislature, 1st Wednesday in January.

RHODE ISLAND.

The Father of this state was Roger Williams, a man remarkable for his benovolence, justice, and pacific policy. He was banished from the Plymouth colony for avowing the doctrine of equal toleration of all religious sects in the same political community. He purchased lands of the Indians at Moosehausic, where, in 1636, with his followers he laid out a plantation, and which place, in grateful acknowledgment of the kindness of heaven, he called Providence. In 1638, William Codrington and others followed Williams and settled the island of Rhode Island. By the wise policy of Williams towards the Indians, and his respect to all sects of religion, this colony was rendered exceeding prosperous. This state pays annually \$10,000 for the maintenance of free schools. It is worthy of remark that this is the only state in the union which is without a written constitution. Its government is founded on the charter of Charles 2d in 1663. This state is bounded north and east by Massachusetts, south by the Atlantic ocean, west by Connecticut. Situated between  $41^{\circ} 18'$  and  $42^{\circ} 1'$  N. Lat. and  $71^{\circ} 48'$  and  $71^{\circ} 1'$  W. Lon. Governor, John B. Francis. Election, governor and senators in April, representatives in April and August; meeting Legislature 1st Wednesday in May and June, last Wednesday in Oct. and January.

CONNECTICUT.

The Plymouth Company in England granted this territory to the Earl of Warwick in 1630, who, in the following year, assigned it to Viscount Say and Seal, and Lord Brook, but it was first settled by the whites at Windsor, by a party from the Plymouth colony, in 1630. Hartford and Weathersfield were settled by parties from Dorchester, and Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1635 and 1636. The Dutch claiming this country, as belonging to the New Netherlands, it was a subject of strife between them and the English until 1650, when a treaty of amity and partition was made. In 1638 a party from England planted a colony at New Haven which remained unconnected with that on Connecticut river until 1665, when they were united. Connecticut has a School Fund, which amounts to nearly 2 millions, affording instruction to about 90,000 children annually. This state is bounded north by Massachusetts; east by Rhode Island; south by Long Island sound, and west by New York. Situated between  $40^{\circ} 58'$  and  $40^{\circ} 1'$  N. Lat. and  $72^{\circ} 37'$  and  $71^{\circ} 43'$  W. Lon. Governor, Henry W. Edwards. Election 1st Monday in April; meeting Legislature, 1st Wednesday in May.

NEW YORK.

Henry Hudson, an Englishman, sailing in the Dutch service, discovered Long Island, the Harbour of New York, and the noble river that bears his name, in the year 1609. The Dutch built Fort Orange, at Albany, and commenced a settlement on Manhattan island in 1613. The Dutch claimed all the country between the Connecticut and Delaware rivers and called it New Netherlands. The English had always contested the right of the Dutch to this territory, and in 1664, Charles II. of England having granted to the Duke of York and Albany all the country between Nova Scotia and Delaware bay, the New Netherlands came into the possession of the English. Fort Orange was then called Albany, and Manhattan, or New Amsterdam, New York. New York stands unrivalled by any of her sister states in the union of those things which constitute the prosperity of a people. Her central situation, her excellent climate, her fertile and extensive territory, her navigable rivers, her inland seas, her mighty cataracts and never failing streams; together with the proximity of her chief city to the ocean, all afford her the greatest advantages in agriculture, commerce and manufactures. This state is bounded north by Lower Canada, east by Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut; south by New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and west and north west by Upper Canada. Between  $40^{\circ} 30'$  and  $45^{\circ}$  N. Lat. and  $72^{\circ} 55'$  and  $79^{\circ} 50'$  W. Lon. Governor, Wm. L. Marcy. Election 1st Monday in November; meeting Legislature, 1st Tuesday in January.

NEW JERSEY.

This state was first settled by the Danes, at Bergen about the year 1624. This country was inhabited by the Swedes and Dutch for many years. The soil of this state is not naturally well adapted to agricultural pursuits, much of the land being either marshy or sandy; yet its proximity to two of the largest markets in the United States, and the industry of its inhabitants have rendered it exceedingly productive of all sorts of fruits and vegetables common to the climate, together with grain and meats of various kinds. This state has a school fund of about \$246,000. From the school fund, and a tax on the bank capital, a liberal appropriation is made for common schools in this state. This state is bounded north by New York; east by the Atlantic ocean and New York; south by Delaware bay; and west by Pennsylvania. Situated between  $38^{\circ} 57'$  and  $10^{\circ} 22'$  N. Lat. and  $75^{\circ} 25'$  and  $73^{\circ} 52'$  W. Lon. Governor, Peter D. Vroom. Election 2d Tuesday in October; meeting Legislature, 4th Tuesday in October.

PENNSYLVANIA.

William Penn, the founder of this powerful state, was the son of Sir William Penn, an admiral in the British navy. He united himself with the society of Friends, then a persecuted sect in England. For services rendered by his father, king Charles the second, in 1681, gave him a tract of land in the western world, and called it Pennsylvania. Penn, with about 2000 followers landed at New Castle, on the Delaware, in 1682, and proceeding up the river, planned Philadelphia, "the city of brotherly love," and erected about 80 buildings the same year. The piety, philanthropy, and wisdom of its founder, the fertility of its soil, the healthiness of its climate, the pacific disposition of the natives, and the lessons of experience derived by the settlement of other colonies in earlier days and under more rigorous skies, all conspired to render this colony the most prosperous of any of which history gives an account. Penn died in 1718 aged 74 years. The resources of this state are immense; and the character of the people is well calculated to give them a proper direction. The beautiful Delaware, and other navigable waters of Pennsylvania, its canals and the fine roads furnish Philadelphia with a great amount of domestic exports, and render it one of the most important marts of foreign and domestic commerce in the United States. Pennsylvania is the greatest manufacturing state in the union, and Philadelphia takes the like rank among our manufacturing cities. This state yields to no other in the variety and extent of its mineral treasures, particularly in its extensive mines of anthracite and bituminous coal. This bounded north by New York; east by New Jersey; south east by Delaware; south by Maryland and Virginia; and west by Virginia and Ohio. Situated between 39° 43' and 42° 12' N. Lat. and 72° 35' and 80° 26' W. Governor, ———. Election 2d Tuesday in October; meeting Legislature, 1st Tuesday in December.

DELAWARE.

The first Europeans that settled this state were of Swedes and Finns, who, under the patronage of Captain Adolphus, landed at Cape Henlopen in 1627. They purchased lands of the Indians on both sides of the Delaware river, and settled themselves at Lewistown, the mouth of Christian Creek, near Wilmington. In 1639 the Dutch took possession of the country, and retained it until the New Netherlands were subjugated by the English in 1664. This country was formerly called the "three Lower Counties" and afterwards the "three Lower Counties of Pennsylvania." The name of this state, of the Delaware river, is derived from Lord De la War, one of the first settlers of Virginia. This state is generally low and fertile, is chiefly agricultural, and produces all the staple luxuries common to its climate, particularly wheat, which large quantities are flourished and exported. This state has a school fund of $170,000. No district is exempted from any share of this fund that will not raise, by taxation, a sum equal to its share of the income of the fund. This state is bounded north by Pennsylvania; east by Delaware river, Delaware bay, and the Atlantic ocean; and south and west by Maryland. Situated between 39° 29' and 39° 50' N. Lat. and 74° 56' and 75° 40' W. Governor, Caleb P. Bennet. Election 1st Tuesday in October; meeting Legislature, 1st Tuesday in January.

MARYLAND.

About 200 Roman Catholics from England, under the grant from Charles the first to Lord Baltimore, were the first white settlers in this state. They arrived at the mouth of the Potomac in February, 1634, and purchased of the Indians a large village where St Mary now stands. Lord Baltimore died in 1676, much honored and beloved. This colony was an asylum for the persecuted of religion.

ets from all parts of the world; which circumstance
th the hospitality of the natives, the fruitfulness of its l, and the mildness of its climate, tended greatly to its rly growth and prosperity. The genuine white wheat
d the bright kites foot tobacco, are said to be peculiar Maryland. The school fund is derived from $75,000 id by the U. S. for advances made by Maryland during e late war, and by a tax of 20 cents on every $100 bank pital. This state is bounded north by Pennsylvania;
st by Delaware, and the Atlantic ocean; south and st by Virginia. Situated between  $38^{\circ}$  and  $39^{\circ} 43' N.$
it. and  $75^{\circ} 15'$  and  $79^{\circ} 25' W.$  Lon. Governor, James omas. Election 1st Monday in October; meeting Le-slature 1st Monday in December.

VIRGINIA.

Three ships with one hundred and five persons, under e command of Christopher Newport, in the service of e London Company, having on board Captain Gosnald d other men of standing, arrived from England at the outh of the Chesapeake bay on the 26th of April, 1607.
n the 13th of May following they landed and settled at amestown, on James river. The object of these advenrers was partly curiosity to see a new race of beings;
it chiefly to acquire wealth by finding silver and gold,
th which this country was supposed to abound. Among ess adventurers was John Smith, a man of great boldess of character, and one who had been well schooled in e knowledge of human nature both by travelling and iversity. In 1620 and 1621 one hundred and fifty young omen were sent from England and sold to the planters wives, at prices varying from 100 to 150 pounds of to-acco, then worth three shillings the pound. About this me twenty negroes were landed from a Dutch vessel and old for slaves! In 1688 the population of Virginia was bout 60,000. The face of the country is much diversifi-
d. The part towards the sea is low and level: some of is marshy: to the west it rises by degrees and becomes ountainous. The soil is quite productive, and large exorts are made from this state of flour, corn and tobacco.
his state is bounded north by Pennsylvania and Mary-nd; east by the Atlantic ocean; south by North Caro-na and Tennessee; and west by Kentucky and Ohio.
ituated between  $36^{\circ} 33'$  and  $40^{\circ} 39' N.$  L.  $75^{\circ} 35'$  and  $83^{\circ}$
 $9' W.$  L. This state has a Literary Fund of $1,233,523.

$45,000 of this fund is annually appropriated to the education of the poor. This state has also a fund devoted to internal improvements of $2,100,591. Governor, W. Tazewell. Election in the month of April; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

NORTH CAROLINA.

About the year 1645, a number of Virginians took possession of the country north of Albemarle Sound. They appear to have lived without much regard to law. In 1661 a settlement was made near the Clarendon river by adventurers from Massachusetts, which was abandoned by them in 1663, and their place was soon after supplied by emigrants from Barbadoes. North and South Carolina were included in one grant from Charles the 1st in 1630, under the name of Carolina. About 1675, two governments were established in Carolina under the present names, yet both were under the direction of the same proprietors until 1729. This country is low, level, and exceedingly marshy for 50 or 80 miles from the sea, it then becomes mountainous. This state produces cotton, rice, tobacco, wheat, corn, fine oak and pitch pine timber. Much tar and turpentine are made in this state. The state has a common school fund of $70,000. This state is bounded north by Virginia; east by the Atlantic ocean, south by South Carolina, and west by Tennessee. Situated between 33° 53' and 36° 33' N. Lat. and 75° 45' and 84° W. Lon. Governor, ————. Election commonly in August; meeting Legislature 2d Monday in November.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The territory of this state and North Carolina was the same grant from King Charles I. in 1630. In 1670 the governor of Carolina planted a settlement at Port Royal, or Beaufort. The Dutch, French and English, from different motives, made settlements in South Carolina. This country, for more than 100 miles from the sea is low, abounding with swamps and marshes. About 100 miles west of Charleston is the ridge, a tract of high land beyond which the country becomes much elevated. The state has many boatable rivers, which, with its safe and convenient navigation among a great number of fertile sea islands, makes Charleston a city of much commercial importance. The soil of this state is various, producing cotton, rice, indigo, tobacco, wheat, corn, fine timber.

eat variety of fruits, medicinal plants and dyestuffs. South Carolina is eminently an agricultural state: in each of its various divisions of soil, peculiar plants can be raised in abundance. The climate has the heat of the tropics, and the changeableness of more northern skies. The character of the people of this state is perhaps more definitely formed than that of any part of the U. S. Warm, generous and brave, they are also passionate and choleric. An annual appropriation is made by the Legislature of about \$40,000 for the support of free schools. This state is bounded north and north east by North Carolina; south east by the Atlantic ocean; and south west by Georgia. Situated between  $32^{\circ}$  and  $35^{\circ} 10'$  N. Lat. and  $78^{\circ} 30'$  and  $83^{\circ} 10'$  W. Lon. Governor, George McDuffie. Election 2d Monday in October; meeting legislature 4th Monday in November.

GEORGIA.

In 1732, some benevolent gentlemen in England concerted a project for planting a colony in the southern part of the territory included in the Carolina charter, for the purpose of transporting thither the indigent subjects of Great Britain, and the persecuted protestants of all nations. General James Oglethorpe was a great promoter of this philanthropic scheme. In 1773, a number of emigrants arrived and settled at Yamacraw bluff, or Savannah. By the liberality of the proprietors in extending their patronage alike to all classes of emigrants, as early as 1740 the number of settlers was 2498. It is thought that the diversity of soil is greater in Georgia than in any other single state in the union. About one half is flat, alluvial land, the residue hilly or mountainous, and abundantly fertile. Many valuable tropical productions can be cultivated in this state. Oranges, olives, figs, and other articles, which are strangers at the north, are easily raised. The flat land is, however, like that of Carolina, quite unhealthy. This state is bounded north by Tennessee; north east by South Carolina; south east by the Atlantic ocean; south by Florida, and west by Alabama. Cotton and tobacco are its staple articles. Situated between  $30^{\circ} 19'$  and  $35^{\circ}$  N. Lat. and  $80^{\circ} 47'$  and  $85^{\circ} 42'$  W. Lon. Governor, ———. Election 1st Monday in October; meeting Legislature first Monday in November.

ALABAMA.

This state is bounded north by Tennessee; east by Georgia; south by Florida and the gulf of Mexico; and west by Mississippi. Between Lat.  $30^{\circ} 12'$  and  $35^{\circ} N$ . The face of this state is much diversified, and its soil differs in quality from the best to the worst. That part of the state that lies along the gulf of Mexico is low, marshy and sandy, and is unhealthy: about 10 miles from the coast the country becomes more elevated and more healthy, but less productive. As in this section of country generally, the land decreases in value on receding from the rivers. This state abounds in rivers, some of which are boatable for a great distance. All parts of this state are productive of maize; and small grain is raised abundantly in the northern parts. Cotton is the chief staple. A great variety of fruits are easily cultivated here, such as the apple, pear, peach and plum; and even the fig and pomegranate in the lowest latitudes. This state has a bank capital of upwards of a million, and a large force for internal improvements. Congress has been liberal to Alabama in granting to her great resources for the advancement of education. Governor, C. C. Clay. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 4th Monday in October.

MISSISSIPPI.

This state takes its name from the great river which forms the chief part of its western boundary. Its soil is various. Two thirds of the state are supposed to be covered with pine forest, and only about one third part is either alluvial, or river alluvial; this portion of the soil is however of remarkable fertility. It is chiefly confined to the west and south west parts of the state, and these accordingly contain a large share of the white inhabitants, leaving the northeastern part to the almost exclusive possession of the Indians. There is a sea coast of about 80 miles, but no single harbor, so that New Orleans is the mart of the state. This state has a large range of Latitude, and its climate is quite variable; the thermometer at Natchez has stood as low as 12 above zero of Fahrenheit. The seasons are however generally mild and warm. Cotton is the great staple; the fig abounds south of  $32^{\circ}$ , but the orange is not entirely safe from occasional frost. The natural and exotic productions of the soil are innumerable. Among the animals, the alligator may be mentioned.

as being often found in the streams. Mississippi was formerly a part of Georgia. This state is bounded N. by Tennessee; east by Alabama; south by the gulf of Mexico and Louisiana; west by Louisiana and the Arkansas territory. Between Lat.  $30^{\circ} 16'$  and  $35^{\circ}$  north and Long.  $89^{\circ} 16'$  and  $91^{\circ} 35'$  W. Governor, H. G. Runkles. Session 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in November.

LOUISIANA.

There is perhaps no portion of the world, of the extent of Louisiana, which has so great a variety of soils, or so many water courses within its territory. This state has about six million acres of alluvial land of superior excellence; the residue of her soil, about 12 million acres consisting of pine forests, prairie, river inundated land, and sea marsh, is, for the most part, unfit for agricultural purposes. There is but little land of a medium quality in Louisiana: it is generally either extremely fertile, or entirely worthless; and from the vast proportion of the soil which can never be used for agricultural purposes, it can never be expected that this state should support a population equally dense with those of the northern states. It is observable that the settlements in Louisiana are not in spots, or groups, but in lines or strips, along the margins of the rivers. Extremes of manners prevail as well as of soils; from the highest degree of luxury and refinement of the rich planters near New Orleans, to the semi barbarism of the wild hunters of the buffalo and the deer, upon the boundless prairies of the south west. Throughout the state there is nearly an equal mixture of the French and American population, but the latter is fast gaining ground. Louisiana has set her sister states the example of leaving the English law, and forming for herself a valuable code, modelled upon the civil law. This state comprises the southern part of a large tract of country purchased by the U. S. of France in 1803. The river Mississippi was discovered by two French Missionaries in 1673. The country was afterwards explored, and in honour of Louis the XIV. was called Louisiana. The capital is devoted to the cultivation of the sugar cane is supposed to amount to 30 millions of dollars. 50,000 hogsheads of sugar are considered an average crop, and 5 per cent. is considered an average profit. The number of steamboats actually running on the Mississippi and its tributary streams in 1830 was 213. The first steam boat these waters commenced running in 1812. By legislative enactment nearly \$40,000 are annually appropriated to the education of the poor. This state is bounded N. by the Arkansas territory; east by Mississippi; south by the Gulf of Mexico, and west by the Mexican states. Between Lat.  $29^{\circ}$  and  $33^{\circ}$  N. and Lon.  $89^{\circ}$  and  $94^{\circ}$  W. Governor, Edward D. White. Election 1st Monday in July; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in January.

TENNESSEE.

This state was first settled by the whites in 1765, and was formerly a part of North Carolina and ceded by that state to the United States in 1789. In consequence of a part of this state being very low, and a part of it high land, the soil and climate are more various than any other portion of the United States whose difference of latitude is only  $1^{\circ} 40'$ . The soil of this state is generally very luxuriant, and produces large crops of cotton, wheat, rice, and tobacco. Bounded north by Kentucky; east by North Carolina; south by Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi; and west by Mississippi river. Between  $35^{\circ}$  and  $36^{\circ} 40'$  North Lat. and  $81^{\circ} 45'$  and  $90^{\circ} 3'$  W. Lon. Governor, ——— Cannon. Election 1st Thursday in August; meeting Legislature 3d Monday in September, annually.

KENTUCKY.

This state is bounded north by Ohio and Indiana; east by Virginia; south by Tennessee; west by Illinois and Missouri; between  $36^{\circ} 30'$  and  $39^{\circ} 10'$  North Lat. and  $81^{\circ} 45'$  and  $89^{\circ}$  W. Lon. This territory was part of Virginia until 1792, when it became a state. The climate is very fine, and the soil superior for agricultural purposes. The first white settlers removed to Kentucky in 1775, and its growth has been ever since exceedingly rapid. The external appearance of things is so inviting, that it has been called the "garden of the west." It is richly wooded, and has an immense variety of flowering plants and shrubs. Nor is this beauty deceptive, for a large part of the state is covered with a deep strong soil. Nearly the whole country rests on a lime stone foundation, into which the rivers have worn deep channels, of course leaving the banks bold and precipitous. Its staples are wheat, corn, cattle, hemp and salt. Acting Governor, J. T. Morehead.

ction 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in November.

OHIO.

This state was formerly a part of the north western territory. It is bounded S. E. by the Ohio river, or Virginia; th by the Ohio river, or Kentucky; west by Indiana; th by Michigan territory and Lake Erie, and E. by N. Pennsylvania. Situated between  $38^{\circ} 30'$  and  $42^{\circ} N.$  and  $80^{\circ} 20'$  and  $84^{\circ} 43' W.$  Lon. The first manent settlement of the whites in this state was commenced in 1788, at Marietta, near the junction of the Ohio Muskingum rivers in Lat.  $39^{\circ} 25' N.$  and Lon.  $81^{\circ} W.$  172 miles below Pittsburg. The waters of Ohio its tributary streams, with those of Lake Erie afford state peculiar privileges. The best proof that can be en of the exuberance of its soil and the industry and erprize of its people is to state the fact, unprecedented the settlement of any country, that in 1783 this territory was inhabited only by savages; and that in 1830 had a population of nearly a million, enjoying all the comforts and luxuries of civilized life in profusion; without a slave teach them the blessings of liberty; and with minds and means to foster good schools, the bane of slavery. This state is eminently agricultural, and has many and various staples; wheat, however, is the principal. This state has a school fund of \$150,000; and one mill on a dollar of the estimated property of the state is annually raised and appropriated to the maintenance of common schools. One thirty sixth part of the land in this, and other new states in the west, is devoted to purposes of education. Governor, Robert Lucas. Election 2d Tuesday October; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

INDIANA.

This state was formerly a part of the north western territory. It was erected into a territorial government in 1800. It is bounded north and north west by Michigan territory and lake; east by Ohio; south by Kentucky, or Ohio river; and west by Illinois. It lies between  $37^{\circ}$  and  $41^{\circ} 46'$  north Lat. and  $84^{\circ} 43'$  and  $87^{\circ} 55'$  west Lon. The face of this country is more level than that of Ohio; its productions are much the same, although there is not so large a proportion of good land. Yet there are parts of this state not exceeded in fertility by any country.

the vegetable soil has in many places measured 22 feet in depth. The most striking feature in the geography of Indiana is the Prairies, or natural meadows, which extend over a large portion of the state. They are destitute of trees, and covered with grass and wild flowers, of 6 or 8 feet high. These prairies cover a vast extent of country north west of the Ohio, and also on the west of the Mississippi. They afford pasturage to countless herds of buffaloes, deer, and various other wild animals. Governor Noah Noble. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

ILLINOIS.

There is no section of country of equal extent whose soil and climate are so well adapted to all kinds of agricultural purposes, or whose water communications with the ocean are more numerous and important than those of Illinois. The face of the country is generally either prairie, or rolling, rather than hilly land; it is mostly level in its eastern section. There is but little if any wasteland in this state; and at this period there are large portions of territory, of superior soil and climate, densely covered with forest timber, for sale at prices well worthy the attention of the settler or speculator. Illinois river, which traverses the whole of the centre of this state, and falls into the Mississippi 36 miles above St. Louis, 1184 above New Orleans, is a subject of curiosity, in as much as it is the natural link between the almost boundless waters of the Mississippi basin, and those of the western lake. The distance from the mouth of the Illinois to Chicago, on lake Michigan, is upwards of 400 miles, yet the fall from a summit level on that river, both to the Mississippi and lake Michigan does not exceed 60 feet. Loaded boats of considerable size pass on that river, to and from those distant waters, in the season of freshets, without any effort of art to facilitate the navigation. Illinois lies between lat.  $36^{\circ} 57'$  and  $42^{\circ} 36'$  N. and in lon.  $87^{\circ} 12'$  and  $91^{\circ}$  W. Bounded N. by the N. W. territory; E. by Indiana; S. by Kentucky; and W. by Missouri. Governor Joseph Duncan. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December, bienn.

MISSOURI.

This state is bounded N. E. and S. E. by the Mississippi river; S. by the territory of Arkansas; and W. N. by the western unappropriated territory of the U.

nerly a part of Louisiana. Between Lat.  $36^{\circ}$  and  $46^{\circ}$  N. and Lon.  $83^{\circ} 25'$  and  $94^{\circ} 16'$  W. The territory of this state was formerly a part of Louisiana. The first settlements were made by the French in 1760. St. Louis was first settled in 1762; but this country having changed masters, passing from France to Spain, and then from Spain to France, grew in population and importance slowly until the cession of it to the U. S. by France in 1803. The climate of Missouri is liable to great extremes of heat and cold. In metal and other fossil substances, Missouri is probably the richest region in the U. S. The lead mines of Missouri, which are chiefly in the county of Washington, are considered the most valuable in the known world. Governor, Daniel Dunklin. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in November.

MICHIGAN TERRITORY.

This territory includes a peninsula formed by Lake Huron, St. Clair and Erie on the north east, Lake Michigan on the west, and bounded south by the states of Ohio and Indiana, and also the extensive tract of country between the Mississippi, and the Lakes Superior and Michigan. From the fertility of the soil, the goodness of the climate, and the ease with which produce can be transported by lake, canal, and river navigation to New York, it cannot be doubted that this territory will soon become an important member of the Union. Indeed it possesses singular advantages for the most extensive inland commerce, and is already the centre of the north western fur trade. The surface of the country is generally flat, or gently rolling. There is much that is extremely fertile; but the coldness and great length of the winter will probably obstruct its development till the more southern regions of the Ohio shall be settled. Detroit is the principal place of business in Michigan. It is situated on a strait between lakes Erie and St. Clair, 18 miles from the former, and 9 miles below the latter. Detroit was first settled by the French in 1670, and has ever been a point of country of considerable interest. This territory is situated between  $41^{\circ} 31'$  and  $46^{\circ}$  north Lat. and  $82^{\circ} 15'$  and  $87^{\circ} 25'$  west Lon. Act-Governor, John S. Horner.

ARKANSAS TERRITORY.

This territory was formed out of ancient Louisiana, and became a territory of the U. S. in 1819. It is bounded east by the river Mississippi; south by Louisiana and Red river; west by Texas; and north by the unappropriated territory of the U. S. and by Missouri. It extends about 550 miles from east to west, and between north Lat.  $33^{\circ}$  and  $36^{\circ} 30'$ . The first settlements in the Louisiana country were made in this territory. From the great extent of this territory, the face of the country, the soil and the climate are much diversified. A chain of mountains passes through Arkansas from N. E. to S. W. and extends into Texas. The country S. E. of the mountains is low and liable to annual submersion. To the N. W. the country presents a large expanse of prairie, without wood, except on the borders of rivers. As low at Lat.  $35^{\circ}$  the thermometer ranges from  $97^{\circ}$  above, to  $20^{\circ}$  below zero. Arkansas has a large portion of land of great fertility, which produces cotton, corn, cattle, with a great variety of fruits and vegetables. Large quantities of iron ore, gypsum, and common salt are found in this territory.

FLORIDA TERRITORY.

This territory is bounded north by Georgia; east by the Atlantic ocean; south by the gulf of Mexico; and west by the same gulf and Alabama. This is the most southern part of the U. S. It is divided into East and West Florida; the former is on the Atlantic ocean and has St. Augustine for its capital, in Lat.  $29^{\circ} 45'$  N and Lon.  $81^{\circ} 36'$  W. The latter is on the gulf of Mexico and has Pensacola for its capital, in Lat.  $30^{\circ} 28'$  N and  $88^{\circ} 12'$  W. Both are however under one territorial government. Florida was discovered in 1512, and was first settled by the French, in 1562. In 1639 it was conquered by Spain. Although Florida is a peninsula of more than 1000 miles outline of the sea coast, only 120 miles mean breadth, and less in size than the state of Illinois, yet owing to the indolence or inattention of its former possessors, a large portion of its territory is but imperfectly known. From the best sources it appears that the soil of Florida is of an inferior quality, excepting those sections of it near and along its streams. The vegetable productions of Florida are numerous and valuable; cotton, indigo, rice, sugar cane, indian corn and tobacco; also the olive, orange lime, peach and oak and laurel magnolia are indigenous. The climate of Florida is soft and delicious, rarely suffering from extreme cold, and constantly refreshed by sea breezes from the Atlantic or the gulf of Mexico. Invalid from all parts of the U. S. resort to St Augustine for health, and are generally benefited by the air. This territory was ceded to Great Britain in 1763, and in 1781 it was again recovered by Spain.

GREAT WESTERN TERRITORY.

With the exception of a number of trading houses, and military posts, this territory is peopled only by the natives of the forest. Its government, for temporary purposes, is connected with that of Michigan. The best account of the character of the natives, the soil, climate and rivers of this country is found in the journal of Lewis & Clark, who under the direction of the national government, traversed this immense region, over the rocky mountains to the Columbia river on the Pacific ocean, in the years 1804, '5 and '6 and in a later account by Major Long, who, with an exploring party visited the valley of the Missouri in 1823. Our knowledge however of this territory is at present quite limited; but as a part of the soil is known to be very good, the face of the country rather undulating than hilly, the climate mild for its latitude, particularly on the western side of the mountains, and the passage of the Rocky mountains less difficult than has been supposed, other states and territories like Ohio, Illinois and Michigan will doubtless arise in this distant, but highly interesting section of the territory of the U. S. Large quantities of furs and peltry are collected in this territory and sent to Detroit. This territory has a western outline on the Pacific ocean of about 500 miles. The Columbia, Oregon, or River of the West is estimated to be about 1600 miles long; it rises in the Rocky mountains in Lat. about 55° N. and falls into the Pacific ocean in Lat. 46° 19' N. and Lon. 123° 54' W.; and is navigable 183 miles from its mouth, to which distance the tide flows. When the Indian titles to these unappropriated lands of the U. S. are extinguished, 150 states may be formed of larger territory than that of Massachusetts.

INDIANS IN THE UNITED STATES.

It is calculated that there are 313,130 Indians within the limits of the United States; of which number 90,000 are west of the Rocky Mountains. The United States annually pay to the Indians in permanent and limited annuities, for education and treaty stipulations for lands, &c. more than $300,000.

REPRESENTATIVE NUMBERS.

The manner of computing numbers on which representation in Congress is based, is different in the slave-holding States from what it is in the others. In the former, the number of white persons, and three fifths of the slave population, make the number on which the right of sending representatives is founded. Thus suppose a State to have 640,000 white persons, and 425,000 slaves; three fifths of the latter are to be added to the former, making 895,000; and on this number such State sends representatives. The following are the representative numbers according to the last census. Every 47,700 inhabitants sends one representative.

MINISTERS AND CONSULS OF THE UNITED STATES

RESIDENT IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Ministers Plenipotentiary receive an annual salary of $9,000, besides $9,000 for outfit. A charge d'affaires receives a salary of $4,500, and a Secretary of Legation $2,000.

Consuls of Barbary are more of Diplomatic than Commercial Agents; not only as regards their vocations, but also as it respects their compensation.

They receive regular annual salaries, and their pay does not in the least depend on fees. Consuls of the United States, generally so called, are, in effect, agents for commerce and seamen. They receive no yearly salaries, (except in Paris and London, where they have an annual salary of $2000) and their compensation is derived from the fees which are allowed by law. Consuls of the United States, for commercial purposes, are regularly admitted and recognised, as to their official functions, in the ports of Europe; but in the colonies of the European nations, agents of commerce and seamen, mostly exercise the duties of their stations under courtesy, without any formal recognition.

In their public capacity, consuls and agents of commerce and seamen are principally occupied in verifying, in different forms, the legality of the trade of the United States with foreign nations, and in relieving and sending home American seamen, who by accident or misfortune, are left destitute within the jurisdiction of the several consulates or agencies.

Consular agents, though not recognised by law, have in some cases been made by our ministers abroad for special and temporary purposes; but commissions for these appointments are not granted by the United States. — National Calendar.

N. B.--To understand the use of this table--against $2 for one week, you will find the interest to be 1 mill--for one month, 1 cent--for one year, 12 cents.

 Punch a hole with a bodkin, through the corner of the back of the Register, insert a string, and attach to it a lead pencil. With this, minutes can be made at all times, with ease and convenience upon the memorandum pages for each month in the year. A pen should never be used. "Be particular," in this, and in making minutes daily. They will be found extremely valuable, for reference. No professional man, merchant, farmer or mechanic, should be without a Register annually; nor should he neglect a careful attention to the memorandum table.

VERMONT REGISTER

AND

FARMER'S ALMANAC,

1837:

---

Calculated for the Meridian of Montpelier, Lat.  $44^{\circ} 17'$  N. and Long.  $4^{\circ} 25'$  E. from the capital at Washington.

ASTRONOMICAL CALCULATIONS BY ZADOCK THOMPSON, A. M.

---

MONTPELIER:
PUBLISHED BY E. P. WALTON & SON.

As several alterations have been made in the Astronomical Calculations for the present year and the whole adapted to mean time, some explanations may not be improper.

Mean time is that shown by a well regulated clock, or timepiece. Apparent time is that shown by a correct sun-dial. The difference between mean and apparent time, is called the equation of time. The equation of time depends upon two causes.

1. The obliquity of the ecliptic to the equator, which causes an inequality in the daily increments of the sun's right ascension.
2. The unequal motion of the earth in its orbit, while the motion on its axis is uniform. Mean and apparent time coincide only four times in the year, viz. on the 15th of April, the 15th of June, the 31st of August and the 24th of December.

It has been customary to give the rising and setting of the sun according to apparent time, and in another column to give the equation of time. In that case it was necessary, in regulating a clock or timepiece, by the rising or setting of the sun, to apply the equation to the time of rising, or setting, given in the Almanac, and also the amount of refraction, which in our latitude varies from 2 to 4 minutes. But as this matter is little understood and is attended by some trouble, no notice is usually taken of these corrections, and in their endeavors to make their timepieces agree with the sun, people find it necessary, if they run correctly, to alter them almost every day.

In the following Calendar the time of the sun's rising and setting are the times shown by a correct timepiece, when the sun is in the horizon. The column marked * South, contains the times by the timepiece when the sun is on the meridian, or, in other words, when it is noon by a correct noonmark or dial. For example, when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of January, it should be 4 minutes ~~after~~ 12 o'clock by the timepiece. Again when it is noon by the sun on the 1st day of November, it should be only 44 minutes past 11 o'clock by the timepiece. The other matters are so plain as to need no explanation.

Spring begins March 20th. 2h 33m evening.
 Summer begins June 21st, 11h 47m morning.
 Autumn begins Sept. 23d, 1h 41m morning.
 Winter begins Dec. 21st, 7h 3m evening.

Eclipses of the Sun and Moon.

There will be five eclipses in the year 1837, three of the sun and two of the moon.

I. The first will be an eclipse of the Sun, on the 5th day of April, invisible. This eclipse will be seen only from a small portion of the Southern Ocean.

II. The second will be a total eclipse of the Moon on the 20th day of April. This eclipse will end a little before the moon rises, and will not therefore be visible at Montpelier.

III. The third will be a partial eclipse of the Sun on the 4th day of May, invisible at Montpelier. Conjunction at 2h 12m in the evening. This eclipse will be seen from the northwestern part of North America and from the Northern Ocean.

IV. The fourth will be a total eclipse of the Moon on the 13th day of October, visible as follows:

Beginning	4h 40 m	} Mean time Evening.
Moon rises	5 17
Beginning of total dark.	5 41
Middle of the eclipse	6 27
End of total darkness	7 13
End of the eclipse	8 13

Duration of total darkness 1h 32m. Duration of the eclipse 3h 1m. Digits eclipsed 18 10-3 on the Moon's North Limb, or on the south side of the earth's shadow.

V. The fifth will be a partial and invisible eclipse of the Sun, on the 29th day of October. This eclipse will be seen from the northern extremity of South America and from most of the Northern Ocean.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"See now there is snow and the sledding is good ;
 Make ready your team boys, and get home your wood ;
 Look well to your barns, and thrash out your grain ;
 Be content with your lot and never complain."

The orbs of heaven pursue their courses, the seasons walk their round, and creation fulfils the design of its being, man only excepted. Man, wayward man, if not continually goaded or checked, either sinks down into a state of listless inactivity, or is everlastingly wandering out of the way. Hence the necessity of continually setting before him his duty, and of endeavouring by persuasion, by flattery, and by every other means, to induce him to act, in some measure as he should do. But what can I say, that I have not already said upon this subject? The field of argument seems to have been stripped bare; and the arguments to have been presented in every possible point of view. And what have they availed? We see mankind still persisting in the errors we have endeavoured to combat. We see farmers still pursuing what they are pleased to call the good old way, fully resolved to have nothing to do with the improvements of these degenerate times. We see idlers about our streets—dissipation still staggering down the road of wretchedness—and innocence reduced, by the vices of others, to the most abject state of misery and want. These things are against us; but we will not despair.

And tread the steps their fathers trod,

We'll exhort, and we'll threaten, we'll flatter and amuse
 All those who have patience our page to peruse ;
 We'll teach them their duty—we'll teach them the way,
 And clear our own skirts, if they do not obey.

As I have room, I would just hint, in this place, that the evenings are now long—that you have a number of good books, (or had ought to have) and have a Newspaper weekly without borrowing of your neighbors—and that you and your family have minds which need improvement. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Dark flitting round a mouldering tower,
 I spied a strangely awful form,
 And swifter moved the hastening power,
 And louder roared the crashing storm.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Now winter reigns, triumphant reigns,
 O'er all the regions round ;
 The earth is held in icy chains ;
 The snows o'erspread the ground :
 But while the tempest rages dire,
 And shakes his tot'ring dome,
 The happy farmer trims his fire
 Rejoicing in his home.

---

Old Boreas had a fine frolic last night with the fallen snows. The roads completely blocked up—no trace of the old paths to be seen! Come boys, let us be stirring—yoke the team—rally the neighbors—let us open the roads that the poor traveller may find his way rejoicing, and not be hindered here to be afraid us for a want of energy and public spirit. We will not imitate the conduct of our neighbor Meek-spirit below here, who never stirs out-a-door after a snow storm till his neighbors have beaten a good path for him, because he knows that their business will compel them to do it. He has the reputation as far as he is known, of being a selfish, niggardly, mean spirit-ed fellow, and he justly deserves the appellation he bears.

Now, while there is a plenty of snow and the sled-ding good, is the time to replenish your woodhouse.—Neighbor Thoughtless is in the habit of neglecting his business till the snow is nearly or quite gone, and need not inform you that he always finds hard sled-ding. But says one, "I have no woodhouse." Then I can tell you that you are not overstocked with economy—that you are without a very necessary article. But this is no excuse for you to neglect to lay in a store of fuel, and to let your wife and children suffer with cold. Attend now to your sledding and erect a woodhouse as soon as possible.

To prevent the bleeding of Vines.—If a piece of moistened bladder be folded over the end of the vine which is cut, and then bound tightly round with pack-thread, it will effectually prevent bleeding.

'Twas time, on firey pinions driven,
For vollied lightnings rent the sky;
The clouds with hissing bolts were riven,
And ruin rolled in thunder by.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

See! from our clime now surely winter flies;
 And see the source of Light and Life arise;
 Yet storms will come and winds impetuous rush,
 And hailstones rattle through the budding brush,
 And night foll'n lambs require the farmer's care,
 And teeming ewes that still their burthens bear.

"How hard the times are, and how scarce money is!"
 But what is the ground of this complaint? It is necessary that we should know the cause of the evil, if we wish to remedy it. Running headlong into debt, is the sin which so easily besets us, and it is this for which we smart, and some of us so severely that I hope we shall profit by our bitter experience. But so long as we are guided by fancy instead of reason—so long as we are ruled implicitly by the mandates of the fickle goddess Fashion—or pay our daily devotions at the shrine of Bacchus—just so long we shall tremble at the sight of a constable or sheriff, and just so long shall we be obliged to make the pitiable complaint of "Hard times!—Money is scarce!"

If you have the curse of debt upon you, retrench from your expenses and redouble your exertions, and if, by the blessings of providence, you succeed in extricating yourself, profit by your sufferings—avoid debt and we shall hear you no more complain of Hard Times.

Deference is the most complicate, the most indirect, and most elegant of all compliments.

Is it not the wound our pride sustains by being deceived, that makes us more averse to hypocrites, than to the most audacious and barefaced villain? Yet it seems as much a piece of justice to commend a man for talking more honest than he acts, as it is to blame a man for acting more dishonestly than he talks. The sum of the whole, however, is that the one adds to other crimes by deceit, and the other by his impudence.

Then came a voice like rivers pent,
Between two mountains' craggy sides,
Like Erie, o'er its cascade sent,
And hoarser than the ocean tides.

FARMER'S CALENDER.

Spring, lovely spring, returns again
To strew her beauties o'er the plain,
And ev'ry charm display:
To warm the breast with fond desire,
The warblers of the wood inspire,
To tune the sportive lay.

“ Dreary winter is now past; the returning zephyrs dissolve the fleecy snow, and unlock the frozen streams, which overflow the meadows, and enrich the teeming earth.” Vegetation, which has lain dormant through the winter, is again waking to life; flowers burst from their embryo state to clothe the forests and the meadows with beauty, and the birds fill the air with the melody of their notes.

Come, let us be stirring, and not be the only idle beings in the world! The good husbandman has now sufficient inducement to stimulate him to industry without being continually pricked up like a dull ox.—Fences and stone walls want repairing.

The happiness of a country does not depend on the circumstances of the inhabitants being few or many, but on the proportion which they bear to the supply of necessaries, conveniences and enjoyments at their disposal. A nation having only ten millions of people, might be decidedly more powerful than a nation with twenty millions, if they were less instructed, less industrious, or less rich. But, other things being the same, there can be no doubt that the political power and importance of a nation, will be in a very great degree dependent on the amount of its population.

Ring Worm.—After I had the tetter nearly twenty years on my hand, and had used dollars worth of celebrated tetter ointment, which took off the skin repeatedly without effecting a cure, a friend advised me to obtain some Blood Root, (called also Red Root, Indian Paint, &c.) to slice it in vinegar, and afterwards wash the place affected with the liquid. I did so, and in a few days the dry scurf was removed, and my diseased hand was as whole as the other.—Am. Far.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"When your lands are prepared, you may, if you please,
Finish sowing your barley, your flax, oats and peas;
By the tenth plant potatoes—by the fifteenth your corn,
And see that your sheep in good season are shorn."

At this season, the following axioms may suggest some profitable hints to those whose business it is to cultivate the soil.

1. Despise not your own profession, but regard it as all should do, the first in respectability and importance.

2. Do not attempt to cultivate more land than you can stock and manure to advantage. Remember it is better to till 30 acres well than 100 in a slovenly manner. What you cannot improve do not undertake to cultivate. Cultivate what you attempt to cultivate well—the remainder of your lands will yield the most profit in firewood and timber. Large pastures may be profitable with no other labour than what is necessary to keep them clear of bushes; but to run over 20 acres of plough land, or mowing land for what, with good cultivation, may be obtained from five, is the very quintessence of folly and bad husbandry.

3. Endeavor to raise good grain, for it will always sell for a good price, even in years of plenty; whereas it is only in seasons of scarcity that there is a demand for grain of an inferior quality.

4. Let your stock of cattle, horses, sheep, &c. be of the best sorts, and more remarkable for utility than for beauty, or fashion.

5. Depend upon your own farms for the subsistence and comforts of life, and admit no guest into your house, who cannot live on the productions of our own country.

These axioms, reduced to general practice, would soon change the aspect of our country. A portion of our now half cultivated farms would soon acquire the neatness and fertility of a garden, while the remainder run up to beautiful groves, affording an abundance of firewood and timber, with increased profit to the possessor.

What joy! to catch the fragrant gales,
With pinions sweeping as they play,
O'er each fair flow'ret that exhales
The breath of May.

FARMER'S CALENDAR,

"O'er heaven's bright azure now with joyful eyes
The farmer sees dark clouds assembling rise;
Borne o'er his fields a heavy torrent falls,
And strikes the earth with hasty driving squalls,
"Right welcome down ye precious drops," he cries,
But soon, too soon, the partial blessing flies."

---

A continual dropping weareth away stones, said the wise preacher of Israel. But mind ye! the dropping must all be in one place to effect this, and not be scattered like the blows of my neighbor Thorndike's axe, now here and then there, all around his place.—By this means he does not cut and split as much wood and as many rails as he wants for his own use, though he seems to be at it half his time. Neighbor T. is not indolent. No. I went to see him the other day,—called at his house—was told he had gone down to his quarry before day—went thither—some one had been at work—half a dozen stones had been newly turned out—learned from a boy he had gone to the other side of his place to mend a piece of bad road—went there—he had been to work, and had drawn in a load of gravel and a few logs, just enough to make it worse—but was gone, as I learned from a black man, who was trying to get his cart over the place, half a mile up the swamp, where he had some timber for rails. I followed and arrived at the place just as he had shouldered his axe, and was marching off, having got out about a dozen rails. He told me he had a bridge to mend, a fence to put up and some corn to weed that day, so I left him as soon as possible. But none of these things were fully accomplished, though his interest were suffering on the account; yet all these things might have been accomplished had he attempted but one thing at a time.

---

Be cautious not to consider a person as your superior, merely because he is your superior in the point of assurance. This has often depressed the spirit of a person of desert and diffidence.

What joy! to hear the quaver'd song,
That shames the brow of sloth and care,
In grateful numbers float along
The peopled air.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Ten thousand thousand insects gay;
 Warm'd by the sun's enlivening ray,
 Awake to life and joy:
 Hark! hear the mow-man whet his scythe,
 All now are merry, gay and blithe,
 Not one without employ.

Come, wife, let us breach the barrel of hop beer!—
 We are about to begin our haying, and are determin'd to make this beverage a substitute for ardent spirits this season. Since we have declaimed so loudly against the use of spiritous liquors, if we do not inculcate the same by our example, our neighbours will think we are more willing to be fools ourselves, than to have others so.

Beware of tattling; or more poetically,

"Talk not of others' business; but beware
 Of whom you talk, to whom, of what, and where."

If we blow the coals of others' strife, it would not be strange if some of the sparks should fly in our faces. It is much the best to mind our own business, and the most effectual way to make others mind theirs.

A woman never appears so truly amiable as in retirement; her virtues shine with double lustre.

Do not idly imagine that, by running to public places, you will have a better chance of marrying. If a woman is ever so beautiful, being seen too often makes her cheap in the eyes of men. She who is but rarely seen, men covet most to see, and her chance of being happily married is much greater.

Anger destroys Reason.—When a man is angry it will answer no good purpose to attempt to argue a point with him, or to try to convince him that he is wrong, either in practice or in principle. You must wait till the paroxysm of passion has subsided, and the impatient sufferer becomes again a rational being.

Each season hath charms for the eye,
 In each, Jesus' goodness we scan;
 In the blood-tinctured hues of the sky
 We read his deep suff'rings for man.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"And now the farmer quits his elbow chair,
Flies to the field the genial toil to share,
To turn the swarth, the quiv'ring load to rear,
Or ply the busy rake the land to clear;
Summer's light garb itself so cumbrous grown,
Each his thin doublet in the shade throws down."

Some one in casting up his accounts, put down a very large sum per annum for his idleness. But there is another account more awful than that of our expenses, in which many will find that their idleness has mainly contributed to the balance against them. From its very inaction, idleness ultimately becomes the most active cause of evil; as a palsy is more to be dreaded than a fever. The Turks have a proverb which says The devil tempts all other men, but that idle men tempt the devil.

Drive your haying and harvesting and not let that drive you. Now there is my neighbor Doubty spending all the time in speculating. He neglects his business—his crops are wasting—while he is determined to be rich without the trouble of pursuing the tedious process of farmer Thrifty, who is now possessed of his thousands and independent so far as is desirable in the present state. He is going to be rich at once and by speculation too. Now I would just whisper in his ear what the proverb says: "He that would be rich in one year is hanged at six months' end."

When a person, for a splendid servitude, forgoes an humble independency, it may be called an advancement, if you please; but it appears to me an advancement from the pit to the gallery. Liberty is a more invigorating cordial than Tokay.

Independency may be found in comparative, as well as absolute, abundance; I mean where the person contracts his desires within the limits of his fortune.

How to become irrational.—If you wish to incapacitate yourself for rational intercourse, be a drunkard, for that will render you wholly unfit for it.

When the beauties of spring are prefer'd,
And music and stillness accord,
In the notes of the ring-dove are heard
The groans of our agonized Lord.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"As soon as the storm and the bad weather is over,
Secure all your grain and your flax under cover;
Give salt to your cattle and take up your bees;
Dig early potatoes and plough if you please."

The farmer if he minds his own business only has the best title to happiness of any man, and is the surer of enjoying it. His mind and his bodily powers are constantly engaged, on which account he not only escapes the insipidity of indifference and the tediousness of inactivity, but has enjoyments which are wholly unknown to those who live indolently upon the toils of others. Life affords no higher satisfaction than that of surmounting difficulties, passing from one degree of success to another, forming designs and seeing them accomplished. He that labours in any laudable employment, has his fatigues supported by hope and usually crowned with joy.

How is the barn, the wood house and door yards, Mr. Snuggins? Do you keep them in a husbandlike manner, or is your yard encumbered with brush, old rails, stumps, straw, chips, leached ashes, rotten cabbage, dead cats, old rags and fleas? And the wood house filled with broken ploughs, dislocated wheelbarrows, hog's nests and skunk's skins? And your barn crammed with old barrels, sleighs, wheels, useless rakes, forks, gate posts, guide boards and broken grindstones? Some will have it that a slovenly farmer gets as much profits from his farm as a neat one. But I don't believe it. If a man depend on raising and selling butter and cheese, he is sure to meet a quick market. if he is known to be neat and trim about his husbandry. I could name some, (but I will wait a while,) whose butter and cheese I would no sooner eat than I would the very filth of a jakes.

"Never loose sight of the powerful influence of example, and be careful in the management of your concerns, to recommend by your own personal practice uniform habits of active, interested and persevering diligence to those in your employ."

---

When the summer unfoldeth her charms,
For the soul of contemplative mirth,
His sun still enlightens and warms,
His the air that refreshes the earth.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"Alack, my good lady, there comes Goody Thumper,
With jug by her side, a budget and bumper ;
I'll warrant you now, or at least I dare guess,
She longs for new cider as it runs from the press."

"He's a Genius," people said of my young friend Alcansor, and it got to Alcansor's ears, as such things will nine cases out of ten. The youth was promising fair for manhood—with industry and prudence to follow up the advantages he possessed he would have become an ornament to society. But the idea of being a genius haunted him day and night. He put on a thousand ridiculous airs and fell into as many ridiculous practices—became puffed up with vanity and self-conceit and let slip all his golden opportunities in grasping after the foolish phantoms that flitted before his bewildered brain. He turned out a poor creature.—Praise did the mischief.

---

"What a beautiful girl!" the young gentlemen used to say, when they passed Jane Seymour's window, and got a glance at her face and pretty figure. It was no wonder they called her beautiful, for she was so. But persuade a young lady she is beautiful, very beautiful, and she must be a girl of extraordinary good sense, if she don't let the thing run in her head, to the exclusion of more profitable thoughts. Jane once cultivated her mind, was industrious and ingenious with her needle—bid fair to become an excellent house-keeper—and she would have been a rare prize, if left to the guidance of her natural judgment. But she soon began to conclude that she was beautiful—that beauty compensated for every thing else. Those of the beaux, who had worth, having thought differently—the others she would not except, and this misunderstanding lost her a husband. No sensible man ever thought a beautiful wife was worth as much as one who could make a good pudding. I wish girls all knew this, for I feel a great interest in their welfare."

"Youth learns compassion's tale from every tongue,
And flies to aid the helpless and the young;
When now unspairing, as the scourge of war,
Blasts follow blasts, and groves dismantled roar,
Around their home the storm pinch'd cattle lows,
No nourishment in frozen pastures grows."

"Here! this way, young man, if you please! What have you to sell?" "Butter, sir." "Where was it made?" "In the family of Capt. Cleanly, about thirty miles in the country." "Come this way, I very well recollect this Capt. Cleanly; he wears a clean white frock when he comes to market himself, and his butter is always clean, bright and sweet. I have been at his house which looks like a nunnery in neatness and regularity. His wife has taught her daughters to be particularly nice and attentive about the dairy, and I am confident the young ladies, who for gentility of behavior and delicacy of appearance are equal to any of our city ladies, are as attentively employed when at the churn and cheese tub, as at the toilet. The Captain's farm has the appearance of a garden. Everything is in order. Not a tool, nor a twig is out of place. Here, young man, this gentleman and myself will take all your butter, and give you your price."

Winter is at hand, and the good husbandman is prepared for it; but there is neighbor Slothful; he is head and ears in business and has more to do before winter sets in than he could do in six weeks of good weather, and all because he has been moping about and not kept along with the seasons.

A fool can neither eat, nor drink, nor stand, nor walk; nor, in short, laugh, nor cry, nor take snuff, like a man of sense. How obvious the distinction!

The silly excuse that is often drawn from want of time to correspond, become no one besides a cobbler with ten or a dozen children dependent on a tatching end.

Till the evening, with sad, silent tread,
 Moves mournful and slow to the west,
 The sun sinks in ocean's blue bed,
 And points to eternity's rest.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

"Shortning the busy day!—day that slides by,
 Amidst the unfinish'd toils of husbandry;
 Toils still each morn resum'd with double care,
 To meet the icy terrors of the year;
 To meet the threats of Boreas undismay'd,
 And Winter's gathering frowns and hoary head."

"Tis a very good world that we live in
 To buy or to sell or to give in;—
 But to beg, or to borrow or get a man's own,
 'Tis the very worst world that ever was known."

Almost every one finds it necessary to borrow, and every one ought to be willing to lend in cases of emergency. But money borrowed and long retained, or to put off for a week, when the call is for a few dollars, "cash borrowed," gives room for the lender to indulge the weakness of nature to surmise and guess—to "wonder if he is not hard run, or whether he is not on his last legs." Now in borrowing every one should keep a good eye to the payment of it again. The merchant hates the man who will borrow to carry through a speculation, and enrich himself at his expense—the mechanic hates the neighbor who wears out his tools by eternally borrowing them. And the Almanack-Maker hates the man who will borrow his Almanack instead of buying it. If any one should borrow this Register I hope he will borrow from it a lesson which will teach him to go immediately and buy one.

And now to those who borrow without end,
 Who drain the purse of neighbor and of friend;
 May you be happy underneath the sun,
 Nor hate, as I hate one thing—that's a—DUN.

The state of man is not unlike that of a fish hooked by an angler. Death allows us a little more . . . We flounce, and sport, and vary our situation; but when we would extend our schemes we discover our confinement, checked and limited in by a superior hand, who drags us from our element whensoever he pleases.

So the stern winter season erewhile,
And the tempest that threaten'd above,
Shall yield to the durable smile
Of spring ever blooming in love.

	— 10 and midnight	Ditto	wind n. or ne.
		Fair	Rain or snow s. or w.
			Ditto.
			Fair and frosty.

Observations. 1. The nearest the time of the Moon's change, first quarter, full and last quarter are to midnight, the fairer will the weather be during the 7 days following.

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

3. The nearer to mid day or noon the phases of the moon happen, the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next seven days.

4. The space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio.

5. The Moon's change, first quarter, full, and last quarter happening during six of the afternoon hours, i. e. from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather; but this is mostly dependent on the wind, as is noted in the table.

6. Tho' the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring—yet, in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

7. To prognosticate correctly, especially in those cases where the wind is concerned, the observer should be in sight of a good vane, where the four cardinal points of the heavens are correctly placed. With this precaution he will scarcely ever be deceived in depending on the table.

[For further observations, see Register, 1835, p. 42.]

THE UNION.

brief view of the Union, embracing the settlement, climate, soil, productions, &c. of each state, Governor 1836-7, state elections, and meeting of the Legislatures.

MAINE.

The District of Maine, so called, until it became an independent state in 1820, had been connected with Massachusetts in all its political and social relations. The celebrated John Smith made an unsuccessful attempt to settle this country in 1614. The first permanent lodgement of the whites in this state was made from the Plymouth colony at York, in 1630. Emigration to this state has been more slow than to those of milder climate; yet perhaps there is no state in the Union, that promises more independence from its own natural strength and resources than Maine. Its first settlers were a race of men with good minds, stout hearts and strong arms; by them and their sons the stately forests were converted into an article of commerce, of immense value; thus preparing large portions of the soil for its ultimate staples,—wheat, beef, and wool. The St. Croix, Sheepscot, Androscoggin, Sagadahoc and other rivers, with the noble Penobscot and Kennebec, flowing into the sea on her extensive coast, meeting at their mouths many delightful bays, with islands of romantic beauty, where good harbours abound; together with her fine ships, and hardy sailors, give to Maine pecuniary advantages for navigation and the fisheries. Portland is the most important port of trade in this state, and has a fine harbour near the sea. Augusta, at the head of sloop navigation on the Kennebec, 45 miles from its mouth, in lat.  $17^{\circ}44'N$ . and lon.  $69^{\circ}50'W$ . is a beautiful town, and is now become the capital of the state. In 1826 there were 8,000 children in Maine, between 4 and 21 years of age, of which about 102,000 attended school. The annual expenditure is about \$138,000. Every town within the state is obliged by law to raise annually, a sum equivalent at least to 40 cents from each person within the town, for the support of common schools. This State is bounded north west, and north by Lower Canada; east by New Brunswick; south by the Atlantic ocean; and west by New Hampshire. Situated between  $43^{\circ} 5'$  and  $48^{\circ} 3'$  North Lat. and  $70^{\circ} 55'$  and  $66^{\circ} 47'$  East Longitude. Andrew P. Dunlap, Governor. Election 2d Monday in Sept. meeting of Legislature, 1st Wednesday in Jan.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

This State was first peopled by Europeans, by virtue of a grant from the Plymouth Company to John Mason and Ferdinando Gorges, in 1622. Their first locations were at Little Harbour, on the west side of Piscataqua river, and at Cocheco, now Dover. In 1631 the first house was built at Portsmouth. In 1638 Exeter was settled. In 1641 the first settlers formed a coalition with Massachusetts, and remained connected with that colony until 1679. In 1719 about 100 families from the north of Ireland settled at Londonderry. They introduced the foot spinning wheel, the manufacture of linen, and the culture of potatoes. In 1776 this colony led the van in forming a constitution of her own, founded on the free suffrages of the people. New Hampshire is more mountainous than any of her sister states, yet she boasts of large quantities of luxuriant interval. Her high lands produce food for cattle of peculiar sweetness; and no where can be found the necessaries, conveniences, and luxuries of life, united, in greater abundance; cattle and wool are its principal staples. This state raises annually \$90,000 for the support of common schools, and has a literary fund of a considerable amount derived from a tax on bank capital. This state is bounded north by Lower Canada, east by Maine, south east by the Atlantic ocean and Massachusetts, south by Massachusetts, and west and north west by Vermont. Situated between  $42^{\circ} 42'$  and  $45^{\circ} 14'$  North Lat. and  $72^{\circ} 27'$  and  $70^{\circ} 35'$  W. Lon. Isaac Hill, Governor. Election 2d Tuesday in March; meeting of Legislature 1st Wednesday in June.

VERMONT.

The territory of this state was originally claimed by Massachusetts, and afterwards both by New Hampshire and New York. In 1777 the people inhabiting this territory declared themselves independent, and formed a government of their own. Although this thirteenth state was not admitted into the union until after the revolutionary contest was over, yet she vigorously resisted British oppression. Bennington, its best town, was chartered by Benning Wentworth, Governor of New Hampshire, in 1749. A range of mountains covered with spruce, hemlock and other evergreens divides this state nearly in the centre;—hence its name; and hence its epithet “Green Mountain Boys,” celebrated for their bravery in the war of independence. This state is very fertile and produces all sorts of grain in great abundance. Manufacturers flourish on many of the delightful streams of Vermont, and its hills produce marble of superior excellence.—The state is bounded north by Lower Canada, east by Connecticut river, south by Massachusetts, and west by New York. Situated between  $42^{\circ} 44'$  and  $45^{\circ}$  North Lat. and  $73^{\circ} 16'$  and  $71^{\circ} 20'$  W. Longitude.—Session 1st Tuesday in Sept.; meeting of the Legislature 2d Thursday in October.

MASSACHUSETTS.

This state, the parent of all the New England colonies, was first permanently settled by Europeans at Plymouth on the 22d of Dec. 1620, by a sturdy band of 101 independents, the prosecuted subjects of King James the first of England. Another colony, under the style of the Massachusetts Bay colony, was planted at Salem in 1623. These colonies remained separate till 1686, when both colonies were deprived of their charters. In 1692 they were united into one colony under a new charter. The country, now the N. and States, was formerly called North Virginia, owing to the favorable representations of it made by the celebrated John Smith, who visited Massachusetts Bay in 1614, it has ever since, in compliment to its fertility and beauty, bore its present name.—

during the Indian and French wars, Massachusetts expended much blood and treasure; on her soil the first spark of American independence was lighted, and her arm was the strongest in the combat for its achievement. This state has about 50 millions of dollars invested in manufacturing stock; more than 30 millions of dollars in bank capital, and about 8 millions in insurance stock. A great variety and amount of manufactured articles are exported from this state; also fish, whale-oil, lumber, beef, pork and other productions of the sea and soil. Her literary, religious and charitable institutions are the pride of Massachusetts. Within a few years Boston alone has expended nearly two millions of dollars for objects of that character exclusive of an annual expenditure of about \$200,000 for the support of public and private schools. This state is bounded north by Vermont and New-Hampshire; east by the Atlantic ocean; south by Rhode Island and Connecticut, and west by New York. Situated between  $41^{\circ} 31'$  and  $42^{\circ}$  and  $55'$  North Lat. and  $73^{\circ}$  and  $17'$  and  $69^{\circ} 48'$  W. Long. Governor, Edward Everett. Election 2d Monday in November. meeting of Legislature, 1st Wednesday in January.

RHODE ISLAND.

The Father of this state was Roger Williams, a man remarkable for his benevolence, justice, and pacific policy. He was banished from the Plymouth colony for avowing the doctrine of equal toleration of all religious sects in the same political community. He purchased lands of the Indians at Moosehausic, where, in 1636, with his followers he laid out a plantation, and which place, in grateful acknowledgement of the kindness of heaven, he called Providence. In 1638 William Coddington and others followed Williams and settled the island of Rhode Island. By the wise policy of Williams towards the Indians, and his respect to all sects of religion, this colony was rendered exceeding prosperous. This state pays annually \$10,000 for the maintenance of free schools. It is worthy of remark that this is the only state in the union which is without a written constitution. Its government ended on the charter of Charles 2d in 1663. The state is bounded north and east by Massachusetts; south by the Atlantic ocean, west by Connecticut. Situated between  $41^{\circ} 18'$  and  $42^{\circ} 1'$  N. Lat. and  $71^{\circ} 1'$  W. Lon. Governor, John B. Francis, session in April and August; meeting Legislature 1st Wednesday in May & June, and last in Oct. & Jan.

CONNECTICUT.

The Plymouth Company in England granted the territory to the Earl of Warwick in 1630, who in the following year, assigned it to Viscount Say and Seal and Lord Brook, but it was first settled by the whites at Windsor, by a party from the Plymouth colony, in 1630. Hartford and Weathersfield were settled by parties from Dorchester, and Watertown, Massachusetts, in 1635 and 1636. The Dutch claiming the country, as belonging to the New Netherlands, it was the subject of strife between them and the English until 1650, when a treaty of amity and partition was made. In 1638 a party from England planted a colony at New Haven, which remained unconnected with the Connecticut river until 1665, when they were united. Connecticut has a School Fund, which amounts to nearly 2 millions, affording instruction to about 90,000 children annually. This state is bounded north by Massachusetts; east by Rhode Island; south by Long Island sound, and west by New York. Situated between  $40^{\circ} 58'$  and  $40^{\circ} 1'$  N. Lat. and  $72^{\circ} 5'$  and  $71^{\circ} 43'$  W. Lon. Governor, Henry W. Edwards, session 1st Monday in April; meeting Legislature 1st Wednesday in May.

NEW YORK.

Henry Hudson, an Englishman, sailing in the Dutch service, discovered Long Island, the Harbour of New York, and the noble river that bears his name, in the year 1609. The Dutch built Fort Orange, at Albany, and commenced a settlement on Manhattan island in 1623. The Dutch claimed all the country between the Connecticut and Delaware rivers and called it New Netherlands. The English had always conte ed the right of the Dutch to this territory, and in 1664, Charles II. of England having granted to the Duke of York and Albany all the country between Nova Scotia and Delaware bay, the New Netherlands came into the possession of the English. Fort Orange was then called Albany, and Manhattan, or New Amsterdam, New York. New York stands unrivalled by any of her sister states in the union of those things which constitute the prosperity of a people. Her central situation, her excellent climate, her fertile and extensive territory, her navigable rivers, her inland seas, her mighty cataracts and never failing streams; together with the proximity of her chief cities to the ocean, all afford her the greatest advantages in agriculture, commerce and manufactures. This state is bounded north by Lower Canada, east by Vermont, Massachusetts and Connecticut; south by New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and west and north west by Upper Canada. Between  $40^{\circ} 30'$  and  $45^{\circ}$  N. Lat. and  $72^{\circ} 55'$  and  $79^{\circ} 50'$  W. Lon. Governor, Wm. L. Marcy. Election 1st Monday in November; meeting Legislature, 1st Tuesday in January.

NEW JERSEY.

This state was first settled by the Danes, at Bergen, about the year 1624. This country was inhabited by the Swedes and Dutch for many years. The soil of this state is not naturally well adapted to agricultural pursuits, much of the land being either marshy or sandy; yet its proximity to two of the largest markets in the United States, and the industry of its inhabitants have rendered it exceedingly productive of all sorts of fruits and vegetables common to the climate, together with grain and meats of various kinds. This state has a school fund of about \$246,000. From the school fund, and a tax on the back capital, a liberal appropriation is made for common schools in this state. This state is bounded north by New York; east by the Atlantic ocean and New York; south by Delaware bay; and west by Pennsylvania. Situated between  $38^{\circ} 57'$  and  $40^{\circ} 22'$  Lat. and  $75^{\circ} 25'$  and  $73^{\circ} 52'$  W. Lon. Governor

Peter D. Vroom. Election 2d Tuesday in October ; meeting Legislature, 4th Tuesday in October.

PENNSYLVANIA.

William Penn, the founder of this powerful state, was the son of Sir William Penn, an admiral in the British navy. He united himself with the society of Friends, then a persecuted sect in England. For services rendered by his father, King Charles the second, in 1681, gave him a tract of land in the western world, and called it Pennsylvania. Penn, with about 2000 followers landed at New Castle, on the Delaware, in 1682, and proceeding up the river, planned Philadelphia, "the city of brotherly love," and erected about 80 buildings the same year. The piety, philanthropy, and wisdom of its founder, the fertility of its soil, the healthiness of its climate, the pacific disposition of the natives, and the lessons of experience derived by the settlement of other colonies in earlier days and under more rigorous skies, all conspired to render this colony the most prosperous of any of which history gives an account. Penn died in 1718 aged 74 years. The resources of this state are immense ; and the character of the people is well calculated to give them a proper direction. The beautiful Delaware, and other navigable waters of Pennsylvania, its canals and the fine roads furnish Philadelphia with a great amount of domestic exports, and render it one of the most important marts of foreign and domestic commerce in the United States. Pennsylvania is the greatest manufacturing state in the union, and Philadelphia takes the like rank among our manufacturing cities. This state yields to no other in the variety and extent of its mineral treasures, particularly in its exhaustless mines of anthracite and bituminous coal. This state is bounded north by New York ; east by New Jersey ; south east by Delaware ; south by Maryland and Virginia ; and west by Virginia and Ohio. Situated between  $39^{\circ} 43'$  and  $42^{\circ} 12'$  N. Lat. and  $72^{\circ} 35'$  and  $80^{\circ} 26'$  W. Lon. Governor, Joseph Ritner. Election 2d Tuesday in October ; meeting Legislature, 1st Tuesday in December.

DELAWARE.

The first Europeans that settled this state were a party of Swedes and Finns, who, under the patronage of Gustavus Adolphus, landed at Cape Henlopen in 1627. They purchased lands of the Indians on both sides of the river Delaware, and settled themselves at Lewistown, and at the mouth of Christian Creek, near Wilmington. In 1655 the Dutch took possession of the country, and retained it until the New Netherlands were subjugated by the English in 1664. This country was formerly called the "Territories" and afterwards the "three Lower Counties of Delaware" and for many years was under the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania. The name of this state, of the bay and river, is derived from Lord De la War, one of the first settlers of Virginia. This state is generally low and level, is chiefly agricultural, and produces all the staples and luxuries common to its climate, particularly wheat, of which large quantities are floured and exported. This state has a school fund of \$170,000. No district is entitled to any share of this fund that will not raise, by taxation, a sum equal to its share of the income of the fund. This state is bounded north by Pennsylvania; east by Delaware river, Delaware bay, and the Atlantic ocean; and south and west by Maryland. Situated between  $38^{\circ} 29'$  and  $39^{\circ} 50'$  N. Lat. and  $74^{\circ} 56'$  and  $75^{\circ} 40'$  W. Long. Governor, ———. Election 1st Tuesday in October; meeting Legislature, 1st Tuesday in January bienn.

MARYLAND.

About 200 Roman Catholics from England, under a grant from Charles the first to Lord Baltimore, were the first white settlers in this state. They arrived at the mouth of the Potomac in February, 1634, and purchased of the Indians a large village where St. Mary now stands: Lord Baltimore died in 1676, much honored and beloved. This colony was an asylum for the persecuted of religious sects from all parts of the world; which circumstance, with the hospitality of the natives, the fruitfulness of its soil, and the mildness of its climate, tended greatly to its early growth and prosperity. The genuine white wheat, and the bright kites foot tobacco, are said to be peculiar to Maryland. The school fund is derived from \$75,000 paid by the U. S. for advances made by Maryland during the late war, and by a tax of 20 cents on every \$100 bank capital. This state is bounded north by Pennsylvania; east by Delaware, and the Atlantic ocean; south and west by Virginia. Situated between  $38^{\circ}$  and  $39^{\circ} 43'$  N. Lat. and  $75^{\circ} 15'$   $79^{\circ} 25'$  W. Lon. Governor, James Thomas. Election 1st Monday in October; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

VIRGINIA.

Three ships with one hundred and five persons, under the command of Christopher Newport, in the service of the London Company, having on board Captain Gosnald and other men of standing, arrived from England at the mouth of the Chesepeake bay on the 26th of April, 1607. On the 13th of May following they landed and settled at Jamestown, on James river. The object of these adventurers was partly curiosity to see a new race of beings; but chiefly to acquire wealth by finding silver and gold, with which this country was supposed to abound. Among these adventurers was John Smith, a man of great boldness of character, and one who had been well schooled in the knowledge of human nature both by travelling and adversity. In 1620 and 1621 one hundred and fifty young women were sent from England and sold to the planters as wives, at prices varying from one hundred to 150 pounds of tobacco, then worth three shillings the pound. About this time twenty negroes were landed from a Dutch vessel and sold for slaves! In 1688 the population of Virginia was about 60,000. The face of the country is much diversified. The part towards the sea is low and level: some of it is marshy: to the west it rises by degrees and becomes mountainous. The soil is quite productive, and large exports are made from this state of flour, corn and tobacco. This state is bounded north by Pennsylvania and Maryland; east by the Atlantic ocean; south by

North Carolina and Tennessee; and west by Kentucky and Ohio. Situated between  $36^{\circ} 35' 40''$   $39'$  N. L.  $75^{\circ} 35'$  and  $83^{\circ} 29'$  W. L. This state has a literary Fund of \$1,223,523. \$45,000 of this fund is annually appropriated to the education of the poor.— This state has also a fund devoted to internal improvements of \$2,100,591. Governor, ——— Election in the month of April; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

NORTH CAROLINA.

About the year 1645, a number of Virginians took possession of the country north of Albermarle Sound. They appear to have lived without much regard to law. In 1661 a settlement was made near the Clarendon river by adventurers from Massachusetts, which was abandoned by them in 1663, and their place was soon after supplied by emigrants from Barbadoes.— North and South Carolina were included in one grant from Charles the 1st in 1630, under the name of Carolina. About 1675, two governments were established in Carolina under the present names, yet both were under the direction of the same proprietors until 1729. This country is low, level, and exceedingly marshy for 50 or 80 miles from the sea, it then becomes mountainous. This state produces cotton, rice tobacco, wheat, corn, fine oak and pitch pine timber. Much tar and turpentine are made in this state. This state has a common school fund of \$70,000. This state is bounded north by Virginia; east by the Atlantic ocean, south by South Carolina, and west by Tennessee. Situated between  $33^{\circ} 53'$  and  $36^{\circ} 33'$  N. Lat. and  $75^{\circ} 45'$  and  $84^{\circ}$  W. Lon. Governor, Jesse Spaight. Election commonly in August; meeting Legislature 2d Monday in November.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The territory of this state and North Carolina was in the same grant from King Charles I. in 1630. In 1670 the governor of Carolina planted a settlement at Port Royal, or Beaufort. The Dutch, French and English, all from different motives, made settlements in South Carolina. This country, for more than 100 miles from the sea, is low, abounding with swamps and marshes. About 150 miles west of Charleston is the ridge, a tract of high land beyond which the country becomes much elevated. This state has many boatable rivers, which, with its safe and convenient navigation among a great number of fertile sea islands, makes Charleston a city of much commercial importance. The soil of this state is various, producing cotton, rice, indigo, tobacco, wheat, corn, fine timber, a great variety of fruits, medicinal plants and dyestuffs. South Carolina is eminently an agricultural state: in each of its various divisions of soil, peculiar plants can be reared in abundance. The climate has the heat of the tropics, and the changeableness of more northern skies. The character of the people of this state is perhaps more definitely formed than that of any part of the U. S. Warm, generous and brave, they are also passionate and indolent. An annual appropriation is made by the Legislature of about \$40,000 for the support of free schools. This state is bounded north and north east by North Carolina; south east by the Atlantic ocean; and south west by Georgia. Situated between  $32^{\circ}$  and  $35^{\circ} 10'$  N. Lat. and  $78^{\circ} 30'$  and  $83^{\circ} 10'$  W. Lon. Governor, George McDuffie. Election 2d Monday in October. Legislature 4th Monday in November.

GEORGIA.

In 1732, some benevolent gentleman in England concerted a project for planting a colony in the southern part of the territory included in the Carolina charter, for the purpose of transporting thither the indigent subjects of Great Britain, and the persecuted protestants of all nations. General James Oglethorpe was a great promoter of this philanthropic scheme. - In 1773, a number of emigrants arrived and settled at Yamacraw bluff, or Savannah. By the liberality of the proprietors in extending their patronage alike to all classes of emigrants, as early as 1740 the number of settlers was 2498. It is thought that the diversity of soil is greater in Georgia than in any other single state in the union. About one half is flat, alluvial land, the residue hilly or mountainous, and abundantly fertile. Many valuable tropical productions can be cultivated in this state. Oranges, olives, figs, and other articles, which are strangers at the north, are easily raised. The flat land is, however, like that of Carolina, quite unhealthy. This state is bounded north by Tennessee; north east by South Carolina; south east by the Atlantic ocean; south by Florida, and west by Alabama. Cotton and tobacco are its staple articles. Situated between  $30^{\circ} 19'$  and  $35^{\circ}$  N. Lat. and  $80^{\circ} 47'$  and  $85^{\circ} 42'$  W. Lon. Governor, Wm. Schley. Election 1st Monday in October; meeting Legislature first Monday in November.

ALABAMA.

This state is bounded north by Tennessee; east by Georgia; south by Florida and the gulf of Mexico; and west by Mississippi. Between Lat.  $30^{\circ} 12'$  and  $35^{\circ}$  N. The face of this state is much diversified, and its soil differs in quality from the best to the worst.—That part of the state that lies along the gulf of Mexico is low, marshy and sandy, and is unhealthy: about 10 miles from the coast the country becomes more elevated and more healthy, but less productive. As in this section of country generally, the land decreases in value on receding from the rivers. This state abounds in rivers, some of which are boatable for a great distance. All parts of this state are productive of maize; and small grain is raised in its hilly and northern parts. Cotton is the staple commodity. A great variety of fruits are easily cultivated here, such as the apple, pear, peach, plum, and even the fig and pomegranate in the lowest latitudes. This state has a bank capital of upwards of a million, and a large fund for internal improvement. Congress has been liberal to Alabama in granting to her great resources for the advancement of education. Governor, C. C. Clay. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting of Legislature 4th Monday in October.

MISSISSIPPI.

This state takes its name from the great river which forms the chief part of its western boundary. Its soil is various. Two thirds of the state are supposed to be covered with pine forests, and only about one third part is either bluff, or river alluvial; this portion of the soil is however of remarkable fertility. It is chiefly confined to the west and south west parts of the state, and these accordingly contain a large share of the white inhabitants, leaving the northeastern part to the almost exclusive possession of Indians. There is a sea coast of about 80 miles, but not a single harbor, so that New-Orleans is the mart of the state. This state has a large range of Latitude, and its climate is quite variable; the thermometer at Natchez has stood as low as 12 above zero of Fahrenheit. The seasons are however generally mild and warm. Cotton is the great staple; the fig abounds south of  $32^{\circ}$ , but the orange is not entirely safe from occasional frost. The natural and exotic productions of the soil are innumerable. Among the animals, the alligator may be mentioned as being often found in the streams. Mississippi was formerly a part of Georgia. This state is bounded N. by Tennessee; east by Alabama; south by the gulf of Mexico and Louisiana; west by Louisiana and the Arkansas territory. Between Lat.  $30^{\circ} 10'$  and  $35^{\circ}$  north and Lon.  $88^{\circ} 10'$  and  $91^{\circ} 35'$  W. Governor, Chs. Lynch. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in November.

LOUISIANA.

There is perhaps no portion of the world, of the extent of Louisiana, which has so great a variety of soil, or so many water courses within its territory. This state has about six million acres of alluvial land of superior excellence; the residue of her soil, about 12 million acres, consisting of pine forests, prairie, river inundated land, and sea marsh, is, for the most part, unfit for agricultural purposes. There is but little land of a medium quality in Louisiana; it is generally either extremely fertile, or entirely worthless; and from the vast proportion of the soil which can never be used for agricultural purposes, it can never be expected that this state should support a population equally dense with those of the northern states. It is observable that the settlements in Louisiana are not in spots, or groups, but in lines or strips, along the margins of the rivers. Extremes of manners prevail as well as of soils; from the highest degree of luxury and refinement in the rich planters near New Orleans, to the semi barbarism of the wild hunters of the buffalo and the deer, upon the boundless prairies of the south west. Throughout the state there is nearly an equal mixture of the French and American population, but the latter is fast gaining ground. Louisiana has set her sister states the example of leaving the English law, and forming for herself a valuable code, modelled upon the civil law. This state comprises the southern part of a large tract of country purchased by the U. S. of France in 1803. The river Mississippi was discovered by two French Missionaries in 1673. The country was afterwards explored, and in honor of Louis the XIV. was called Louisiana. The capital invested in the cultivation of the sugar cane is supposed to amount to 30 millions of dollars. 50,000 nogsheads of sugar are considered an average crop, and 5 per cent. is considered an average profit. The number of steam boats actually running on the Mississippi and its tributary streams in 1830 was 213. The first steam boat on these waters commenced running in 1812. By legislative enactment nearly $40,000 are annually appropriated to the education of the poor.— This state is bounded N. by the Arkansas territory; east by Mississippi; south by the gulf of Mexico, and west by the Mexican states. Between Lat. 29° and 33° N. and Lon. 89° and 94° W. Governor, Edward D. White. Election 1st Monday in July; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in January.

TENNESSEE.

This state was first settled by the whites in 1765, and was formerly a part of North Carolina and ceded by that state to the United States in 1789. In consequence of a part of this state being very low, and a part very high land, the soil and climate are more various than in any other portion of the United States whose difference of latitude is only 1° 40'. The soil of this state is generally very luxuriant, and produces large crops of cotton, wheat, rice, and tobacco. Bounded north by Kentucky; east by North Carolina; south by Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi; and west by Mississippi river. Between  $35^{\circ}$  and  $36^{\circ} 40'$  North Lat. and  $81^{\circ} 45'$  and  $90^{\circ} 3'$  W. Lon. Governor, — Cannon. Election 1st Thursday in August; meeting Legislature 3d Monday in September, biennially.

KENTUCKY.

This state is bounded north by Ohio and Indiana; east by Virginia; south by Tennessee; west by Illinois and Missouri; between  $36^{\circ} 30'$  and  $39^{\circ} 10'$  North Lat. and  $81^{\circ} 45'$  and  $89^{\circ}$  W. Lon. This territory was part of Virginia until 1792, when it became a state. The climate is very fine, and the soil superior for agricultural purposes. The first white settlers removed to Kentucky in 1775, and its growth has been ever since exceedingly rapid. The external appearance of things is so inviting, that it has been called the "garden of the west." It is richly wooded, and has an immense variety of flowering plants and shrubs. Nor is this beauty deceptive, for a large part of the state is covered with a deep strong soil. Nearly the whole country rests on a lime stone foundation, into which the rivers have worn deep channels, of course leaving the banks bold and precipitous. Its staples are wheat, corn, cattle, hemp and salt. Acting Governor, J. T. Morehead. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in November.

OHIO.

This state was formerly a part of the north western territory. It is bounded S. E. by the Ohio river, or Virginia; south by the Ohio river, or Kentucky; west by Indiana; north by Michigan territory and Lake Erie, and E. by N. by Pennsylvania. Situated between  $38^{\circ} 30'$  and  $42^{\circ}$  N. Lat. and  $80^{\circ} 20'$  and  $84^{\circ} 43'$  W. Lon. The first permanent settlement of the whites in this state was commenced in 1788, at Marietta, near the junction of the Ohio and Muskingum rivers in Lat.  $39^{\circ} 25'$  N. and Lon.  $81^{\circ} 18'$  W. 172 miles below Pittsburg. The waters of the Ohio and its tributary streams, with those of Lake Erie afford this state peculiar privileges. The best proof that can be given of the exuberance of its soil and the industry and enterprise of its people is to state the fact, unprecedented in the settlement of any country, that in 1783 this territory was inhabited only by savages; and that in 1830 had a population of nearly a million, enjoying all the comforts and luxuries of civilized life in profusion, without a slave to teach them the blessings of liberty; and with minds and means to foster good schools, the bane of slavery. This state is eminently agricultural, and has many and various staples; wheat, however, is the principal. This state has a school fund of \$150,000; and one mill on a dollar of the estimated property of the state is annually levied and appropriated to the maintenance of common schools. One thirty sixth part of the land in this, and other new states in the west, is devoted to purposes of education. Governor, Robert Lucas. Election 2d Tuesday in October; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

INDIANA.

This state was formerly a part of the north western territory. It was erected into a territorial government in 1800. It is bounded north and north west by Michigan territory and Lake; east by Ohio; south by Kentucky, or the Ohio river; and west by Illinois.— It lies between  $37^{\circ} 47'$  and  $41^{\circ} 46'$  north Lat. and  $84^{\circ} 43'$  and  $87^{\circ} 55'$  west Lon. The face of this country is more level than that of Ohio; its productions are much the same, although there is not so large a proportion of good land. Yet there are parts of this state not exceeded in fertility by any country; the vegetable soil has in many place measured 22 feet in depth.— The most striking feature in the geography of Indiana is its Prairies, or natural meadows, which extend over a large part of the state. They are destitute of trees, and covered with grass and wild flowers, of 6 or 8 feet high. These prairies cover a vast extent of country north west of the Ohio, and also on the west of the Mississippi. They afford pasturage to countless herds of buffaloes, deer, and various other wild animals. Governor, Noah Noble. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December.

ILLINOIS.

There is no section of country of equal extent whose soil and climate are so well adapted to all kinds of agricultural purposes, or whose water communications with the ocean are more numerous and important than those of Illinois. The face of the country is generally either prairie, or rolling, rather than hilly land; it is mostly level in its eastern section. There is but little if any waste land in this state; and at this period there are large portions of territory, of superior soil and climate, densely covered with forest timber, for sale at prices well worth the attention of the settler or speculator. Illinois river, which traverses the whole of the centre of the state, and falls into the Mississippi 36 miles above St. Louis, 1184 miles above New Orleans, is a subject of curiosity, in as much as it is the natural link between the almost boundless waters of the Mississippi basin, and those of the western lakes. The distance from the mouth of the Illinois to Chicago, or Michigan lake, is upwards of 400 miles, yet the fall from a summit level on that river, both to the Mississippi and to lake Michigan does not exceed 60 feet. Loaded boats of considerable size pass on that river, to and from those distant waters, in the season of freshets, without any effort of art to facilitate the navigation. Illinois lies between lat.  $36^{\circ} 57'$  and  $42^{\circ} 30'$  N. and in lon.  $87^{\circ} 12'$  and  $91^{\circ} 5'$  W. Bounded N. by the N. W. territory; E. by Indiana; S. by Kentucky; and W. by Missouri. Governor, Joseph Duncan. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in December, bienn.

MISSOURI.

This state is bounded N. E. and S. E. by the Mississippi river; S. by the territory of Arkansas; and W. and N. by the western unappropriated territory of the U. S. formerly a part of Louisiana. Between Lat.  $36^{\circ}$  and  $40^{\circ} 36'$  N. and Lon.  $88^{\circ} 25'$  and  $94^{\circ} 10'$

W. The territory of this state was formerly a part of Louisiana. The first white settlements were made by the French in 1760. St. Louis was first settled in 1762; but this country having changed masters passing from France to Spain, and then from Spain to France, grew in population and importance but slowly until the cession of it to the U. S. by France in 1803. The climate of Missouri is liable to great extremes of heat and cold. In metal and other fossil substances, Missouri is probably the richest region in the U. S. The lead mines of Missouri, which are chiefly in the county of Washington, are considered the most valuable in the known world. Governor, Daniel Dunklin. Election 1st Monday in August; meeting Legislature 1st Monday in November.

MICHIGAN.

This state includes a peninsula formed by Lake Huron, St. Clair and Erie on the north east, Lake Michigan on the west, and bounded south by the states of Ohio and Indiana, and also the extensive tract of country between the Mississippi, and the Lakes Superior and Michigan. From the fertility of the soil, the goodness of the climate, and the ease with which produce can be transported by lake, canal, and river navigation to New York, it cannot be doubted that this state will soon become an important member of the Union. Indeed it possesses singular advantages for the most extensive inland commerce, and is already the centre of the north western fur trade. The face of the country is generally flat, or gently rolling. There is much that is extremely fertile; but the coldness and great length of the winter will probably obstruct its settlement till the more southern regions of the Ohio shall be filled. Detroit is the principal place of business in Michigan. It is situated on a strait between Lakes Erie and St. Clair, 18 miles from the former, and 9 miles below the latter. Detroit was first settled by the French in 1670, and has ever been a point of country of considerable interest. This state is situated between  $41^{\circ} 31'$  and  $46^{\circ} 51'$  north Lat. and  $82^{\circ} 18'$  and  $87^{\circ} 25'$  Lon west. Governor, J. T. Mason. Admitted into the Union in 1836.

ARKANSAS.

This state was formed out of ancient Louisiana, and became a territory of the U. S. in 1819, and a state in 1836. It is bounded east by the river Mississippi; south by Louisiana and Red river; west by Texas; and north by the unappropriated territory of the U. S. and by Missouri. It extends about 550 miles from east to west, and between north Lat.  $33^{\circ}$  and  $36^{\circ} 30'$ . The first settlements in the Louisiana country were made in this state. From the great extent of this state, the face of the country, the soil and the climate are much diversified. A chain of mountains passes through Arkansas from N. E. to S. W. and extends into Texas. The country S. E. of the mountains is low and liable to annual submersion. To the N. W. the country presents a large expanse of prairie, without wood, except on the borders of the rivers. As low as Lat.  $35^{\circ}$  the thermometer ranges from  $97^{\circ}$  above, to  $20^{\circ}$  below zero. Arkansas has a large portion of land of great fertility, which produces cotton, corn, cattle, with a great variety of fruits and vegetables. Large quantities of iron ore, gypsum, and common salt are found in this state. Admitted to the union in 1836.

FLORIDA TERRITORY.

This territory is bounded north by Georgia; east by the Atlantic ocean; south by the gulf of Mexico; and west by the same gulf and Alabama. This is the most southern part of the U. S. It is divided into East and West Florida; the former is on the Atlantic ocean and has St. Augustine for its capital, in Lat.  $29^{\circ} 45'$  N. and Lon.  $81^{\circ} 30'$  W. The latter is on the gulf of Mexico and has Pensacola for its capital in Lat.  $30^{\circ} 28'$  N and  $88^{\circ} 12'$  W. Both are however under one territorial government. Florida was discovered in 1512, and was first settled by the French, in 1562. In 1639 it was conquered by Spain. Although Florida is a peninsula of more than 1000 miles outline of the sea coast, only 120 miles mean breadth, and less in size than the state of Illinois, yet owing to the indolence or inattention of its former possessors, a large portion of its territory is but imperfectly known.— From the best sources it appears that the soil of Florida is of an inferior quality, excepting those sections of it near and along its streams. The vegetable productions of Florida are numerous and valuable; cotton, indigo, rice, sugar cane, indian corn and tobacco; also the olive, orange, lime, peach and oak and laurel magnolia are indigenous. The climate of Florida is soft and delicious, rarely suffering from extreme cold and constantly refreshed by sea breezes from the Atlantic or the gulf of Mexico. Invalids from all parts of the U. S. resort to Augustine for health, and are generally benefitted by the air. This territory was ceded to Great Britain in 1763, and in 1781 it was again recovered by Spain.

GREAT WESTERN TERRITORY.

With the exception of a number of trading houses, and military posts, this territory is peopled only by the natives of the forest. Its government, for temporary purposes, is connected with that of Michigan.— The best account of the character of the natives, the soil, climate and rivers of this country is found in the journal of Lewis & Clark, who under the direction of the national government, traversed this immense region, over the rocky mountains to the Columbia river on the Pacific ocean, in the years 1804, '5 and '6 and in a later account by Major Long, who, with an exploring party visited the valley of the Missouri in 1823. Our knowledge however of this territory is at present quite limited; but as a part of the soil is known to be very good, the face of the country rather undulating than hilly, the climate mild for its latitude, particularly on the western side of the mountains, and the passage of the Rocky mountains less difficult than has been supposed. Other states and territories like Ohio, Illinois and Michigan will doubtless arise in this distant, but highly interesting section of the territory of the U. S. Large quantities of furs and peltry are collected in this territory and sent to Detroit. This territory has a western outline on the Pacific ocean of about 500 miles. The Columbia, Oregon, or River of the West, is estimated to be about 1600 miles long; it rises in the Rocky Mountains in Lat. about  $55^{\circ}$  N. and falls into the Pacific ocean in Lat.  $46^{\circ} 19'$  N. and Lon.  $123^{\circ} 54'$  W.; and is navigable 183 miles from its mouth, to which distance the tide flows. When the Indian titles to these unappropriated lands of the U. S. are extinguished, 150 states may be formed of larger territory than that of Massachusetts.

WISCONSIN TERRITORY.

A territory has recently been formed and thus named, of a part of the territory west of Michigan; — Dodge, Governor.

INDIANS IN THE UNITED STATES.

It is calculated that there are 313,130 Indians within the limits of the United States; of which number 90,000 are west of the Rocky Mountains. The United States annually pay to the Indians in permanent and limited annuities, for education and treaty stipulations for lands, &c. more than $300,000.

ECLIPSES OF THE SUN AND MOON.

In the year 1838 there will be four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the Moon.

I. The first will be a total eclipse of the Sun, on the 25th day of March, invisible at Montpelier. This eclipse will be visible from the Western part of South America and will be central and total to some part of the Southern and South Pacific Ocean.

II. The second will be a partial eclipse of the Moon on the 9th day of April, visible at Montpelier, as follows :

Beginning of the eclipse,	7h 41m	} Mean time Evening
Middle " " "	9h 8m
End " " "	10h 34m

Duration 2h 52m. Magnitude of the eclipse 0.6 (the Moon's diameter being 1) on the Moon's north limb.

III. The third will be an annular eclipse of the Sun on the 18th day of September, visible at Montpelier as follows :

Beginning of the eclipse	3h 10m	} Mean time afternoon.
Greatest obscuration	4h 32m
End of the eclipse	5h 45m

Duration 2h 34m. Magnitude of the eclipse 0.9 (the Sun's diameter being 1) on the Sun's western limb.— This eclipse will be visible to all North America. The line of the central and annular eclipse first touches the earth near the north pole. Taking a direction a little to the west of south, it passes along the western side of Hudson's bay to lake Superior; thence bending towards the south east, it traverses lake Huron, lake Erie, crosses the northeastern corner of Ohio, and the southwestern part of Pennsylvania, and leaves the continent on the eastern shore of Maryland, a little to the northward of Cape Charles.

IV. The fourth will be a partial eclipse of the Moon, on the 3d day of October, invisible at Montpelier; 8 at 9h 55m morning.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Winter once more has stretched his iron hand
 O'er all the regions of our happy land :
 Mountains and plains his cold dominion own,
 While o'er their face his pallid mantle's strown :
 Light fleecy clouds obscure the azure skies,
 And o'er the fields the drifting whirlwind flies.

Fellow citizens,--Although I have given you "line upon line and precept upon precept," I am really afraid that much of my labor has been bestowed in vain. I have been trying to teach you how to make the times better, but instead of that, they would seem to be constantly growing worse and worse. The cry of HARD TIMES grows louder and more frequent. Money, instead of being plenty in every man's pocket, has almost disappeared out of the country. The complaint of hard times has been in every man's mouth, and apparently came from the heart; and so it will be until we learn, whatever our lot may be, therewith to be content. It is undoubtedly true that seasons of 'pressure' and hard times may come, and for which we are not directly responsible; nevertheless it is generally true, that the prudent man foreseeeth the evil; and equally so that the simple pass on, and are punished. We need another Franklin to bring us back to the simple manners of our ancestors, and to show us in his own way that although the causes of complaint are real, yet no inconsiderable share is owing to ourselves. We have become extravagant in almost every thing—extravagant in our mode of living—extravagant in dress—extravagant in amusements—extravagant in expenses—extravagant in idleness. If we wish to see better times, that word extravagance must be banished, and prudence, industry and honesty substituted for it. Farmers, look well to your barns; see that your hay is not wasted, nor your cattle left to suffer. Trust not too much to the promises of the boys; fair words butter no parsnips.

This, too, is the time to gather a supply of wood for the next season. Soon the snow may be too deep and the ways drifted full.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

The cattle now their rustling feast enjoy,
And snatch sweet mouthfuls from the passing boy,
Who moves unseen beneath his trailing load,
Fills the tall racks and leaves a scattered road;
Throughout the yard, housed round on every side,
With bed and nightly food all are supplied.

Well, neighbor Good Nature, let us be stirring and beat out the paths, and not be denned up here in our houses, as torpid and inactive as bears. We should not give the unlucky traveller occasion to call us a pack of lazy, indolent scoundrels, by letting him stay three or four days upon expense, blocked up at the tavern, merely because we have not public spirit enough to bestir ourselves.

Now, reader, permit us to enquire, how do you employ the long winter evenings? Nature forces most of us to withdraw that time from our usual business; she invites us to devote it to the improvement of the understanding and the heart. A more interesting, nay a more happy scene, cannot easily be imagined, than a New England family circle, spending the winter's eve in useful reading or that cheerful conversation to which the study of books, with proper reflection, always gives rise. Do not, we beseech you, undervalue or misspend this precious time. Remove or abuse the winter evenings, and New England would speedily and sadly degenerate from the high character she maintains for virtue and intelligence. Books are by no means the only sources of instruction and profit. Every family should have at least one newspaper: the men must have an eye upon public servants and public measures, the children must watch for hints that will tend to the improvement of their minds and morals, and the whole family ought to know what is going on in the world. The money best laid out is that which furnishes the mind with healthy food.

Are the times hard, and every body in debt, having nothing to pay with? Be indulgent: bear and forbear; study economy, curtail expenses; thank God that you have life, and with the prudent use of ordinary means may look forward to a happier era.

Spring, the young cherubim of love,
An exile in disgrace,
Flits o'er the scene like Noah's dove,
Nor finds a resting place.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

See! from our clime now surly winter flies;
And see the source of Light and Life uprise;
Yet storms will come and winds impetuous rush,
And hailstones rattle through the budding brush,
And night foll'n lambs require the farmer's care,
And teeming ewes that still their burthens bear.

Strike while the iron is hot, is a maxim which was fabricated in the workshop of Vulcan, by one of the Cyclops, and is as much as to say in our times sled wood while the snow lasts. Remember it is now March—that old Boreas increases his efforts at this time only because his reign is short, and that soon the whole face of nature will be changed, and the mantle of white be replaced by a carpet of green.

How beautifully the morning sun rises in the east. The forests begin to feel the influence of his invigorating beams. Here, James, get out the buckets and the tapping iron, and let us haste away and broach the sturdy maples. We shall find it much more to our advantage to go to the forest than to the merchant, for our sugar. By the way, why is not more and better sugar manufactured? We should not go abroad for a pound, even of the finest loaf. We will endeavor to give a few brief directions for making fine white sugar, which can easily be proved by experiment. And first as to the sap; strain it until perfectly clear of every particle of dirt, into kettles clear of rust or dust, and when raised a little above blood heat throw in a small quantity of lime dissolved in warm water. As soon as the first bubble appears, the fire must be extinguished, and the liquor left at rest, while the scum rises at the top and the lime settles at the bottom. The clear syrup may then be carefully drawn off and strained thro' a thick rough cloth, filtering it through animal charcoal, beat up with the whites of eggs. After the necessary boiling, moulds of tin or other material are prepared, of any size, of a conical shape, like the form of a sugar loaf, with a stopper in the small or lower end. The syrup, being sufficiently reduced, is turned into them; as soon as granulation has begun on the sur-

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Wide o'er the fields, in rising mois'nre strong,
 Shoots up the simple flower, or creeps along
 The mellow soil ; imbibing fairer hues
 Or sweets from frequent showers and evening dews,
 That summon from its bed the slumb'ring ploughs,
 While health impregnates every breeze that blows.

The farmer now will begin to look about him, and see what first demands his attention. While all the powers of nature are awaking to life and activity, he also will awake; he will look to his fences, and see that they are put in repair, particularly around his meadow lands. His sowing, too, is not forgotten or neglected, and he bears constantly in mind that What we delay to-day will over-tax to-morrow. In other words, we must keep pace with our business; should it now get the start of us, we may pursue it all summer without overtaking it.

Cattle need particular care about the time of changing from hay to grass: and you should not be hasty in making the change. While the ground is soft and the grass tender, do not let the cattle tread up the roots, or impede the growth of the grass by too early grazing. Give your pastures several weeks credit in the spring, and they will repay you the principal and a generous rate of interest in the summer.

face and sides, the crust is broken with a spatula, and the whole stirred well, after which it is left alone. After this, the process of whitening or claying is thus managed; the clay is first thoroughly washed, till it acquires such a degree of consistency as not to flow when placed on a smooth and slightly inclined board. It is then thrown on to the sugar in the moulds. The moisture penetrates the loaves, deprives the sugar of its color, and passes out at the point of the mould, which should now be unstopped. The clay, deprived of its water, shrinks and dries, and is removed. A second, and sometimes a third application of clay is made, before the sugar attains its desired whiteness. This is the French method of sugar-making. Try it.

The stars that graced the splendid night
Are lost in warmer rays ;
The sun rejoicing in his might Unrolls celestial days.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Advancing Spring profusely spreads abroad
Flowers of all hues with sweetest fragrance stor'd ;
Where'er she treads, Love gladdens every plain ;
Delight on tiptoe bears her lucid train ;
Sweet Hope with conscious brow before her flies,
Anticipating wealth from Summer skies.

"They don't calculate! they don't calculate!" said neighbor Jonathan, when he saw Bob Holdfast, the sheriff, carrying a man to prison for the trifling sum of three dollars. "Let us examine this case: first the man runs in debt one dollar; he is sued, and the cost and time make it at least three dollars: and now he is going to gaol in the midst of his spring work and must pay his board, or, if he swears out, the fees, &c. But if this same man was at home, and attending to his business, he would earn at least a dollar a day by his labor. Again, very often it happens that the creditor loses his debt, and is obliged to pay the officer, court and lawyer into the bargain. O, fie on it! I see that neither debtor nor creditor has calculated here, but the lawyer and the sheriff have reaped the reward of their folly."

How much better would the world wag, if every body regarded that pithy injunction of sacred writ,—
"OWE NO MAN."

Now, neighbors, if you calculate to have good crops three things are necessary on your part, viz: good seeds, good tillage, and good fences. The want of either of these essentials will disappoint all your calculations. Then execute and reap the fruit.

Now as warm weather approaches, the young misses begin to think of a rig-up. Have you earned one, my dear? And now, too, fashions are altered, and we must have new gowns, bonnets, ribbons, ruffles, hair-combs and handkerchiefs. Alas, what sacrifices of fat cattle are yearly made to the goddess Fashion! The wise make no sacrifices of comfort or wealth to this divinity; while the simple follow it, until they come to—nothing! Fashion may be respected, not worshipped.

The surly Winter now has fled,
And smiling Spring supplies his stead;
The sky dissolves in gentle showers,
And lovely May unfolds her flowers.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

O'er heaven's bright azure now with joyful eyes
The farmer sees dark clouds assembling rise ;
Borne o'er his fields a heavy torrent falls,
And strikes the earth with hasty driving squalls,
"Right welcome down ye precious drops," he cries,
But, soon, too soon, the parting blessing flies.

Some people spend their whole lives in getting ready to live. But why is it always put in the future tense? A person who is unprepared to live, is certainly unprepared to die.

*But if we live while we stay,
We are prepared to die to-day.*

Look well to your gardens, and see that your vines do not all go the bugs. By the way, a waggish old gentleman insists, that one must be very careful thoroughly to stir up the earth round the vines—be particular—just before sunrise! He seems to consider the little creature a sort of bedbug, which does its mischief while the gardner is asleep. Slacked lime, spread liberally over the vines, will generally disperse the bugs.

Madam Earth is no coquette, to flatter, to cajole, and at last to deceive. If wooed and courted, she offers to repay your attentions; and, generally, in a ratio in proportion to the sincerity and urgency of your attentions. Neglect her not. She will reward you with a profusion of good things in autumn.

*High mows, a full shed,
Fat beef and white bread,
Happy farmers, full fed.*

Come, boys, let us be in the cornfield; this is a hurrying season, and we must endeavor to keep pace with our business. Remember, that now we are compelled to purchase the greater part of the flour we use; the more corn we raise, therefore, the less flour we shall be obliged to buy, or the more able shall we be to pay for what we do buy.

Query? Would not the farmer find it for his advantage to cultivate more liberally for root crops? In this way a small farm may be made to support a large stock of cattle.

The lambs are leaping o'er the green ;
 No hoar frost in the dawn is seen ;
 But every heart and every grove
 Thrills with the extacies of love.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Hark ! where the sweeping scythe now rips along,
Each sturdy mower, emulous and strong :
Whose writhing form meridian heat defies,
Bends o'er his work and every sinew plies ;
Prostrates the waving treasure at his feet,
But spares the rising clover, short and sweet.

*“ Talk not of other's business, but beware
Of whom you talk, to whom, of what, and where.”*

And beware you do not talk too much. Some people lose half their own time and half the labor of their hired men, by telling and hearing foolish stories. If stories must be told, you may at least reserve them for the amusement of your long winter evenings. More important business now demands your attention. If your business has not now got the start of you, you are completely in readiness to begin your haying.—Scythes, rakes, and pitchforks are all in order. Look to your fields of clover, and as old Jaggar says in his uncouth rhyme :

*If half the heads have turned brown,
Then haste my lads and cut it down.*

If we attempt to blow the coals of other's strife, it is ten to one that the sparks do not fly into our own faces, and that we shall get confoundedly burnt. We shall find it much more to our advantage to mind our own business, and much the most effectual way to make other people mind theirs.

Are your potatoes well hilled up ? If not, improve the bad haying days to do this business effectually. Appropos : potatoes should not be planted so near together as that the tops will exclude the air, light and rain from the roots. An experienced gardner of our acquaintance always makes very large hills, and, if the land is dry, scoopes out the top of the hill round the roots, much in shape like the bowl of a tunnel. This carries the rain to the centre of the hill.

Gather in seeds as they ripen.. A little pains will keeps the weeds out of the garden. It is a mistaken notion that weeds keep the soil from drowth. Where weeds are thick they keep the soil dry.

Summer ! we meet again and range
High mountain verge, low winding vale ;
Each various prospect toiling change,
In reach of health's delicious gale.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Here midst the boldest triumphs of her worth,
Nature herself invites the reapers forth;
Dares the keen sickle from its twelve month's rest,
And gives that ardour which in every breast
From infancy to age alike appears,
When the bright sheaf its plummy top up-rears.

Farmers, consider your calling the most elevated and the most important; but never be above it, nor be afraid of the frock and apron. Put off no business to the morrow, which can and ought to be done to day. Cultivate no more ground than you can till to advantage. Never hire a man to do a piece of work which you can do yourself. Every day has its appropriate duties, and they can all be easily performed, if they are taken up in their proper order. Let your stock be of the best breeds, and keep no more of it than you can keep in good order. Never run in debt without a reasonable probability that you shall be able to pay precisely at the time agreed on. Remember that industry and economy are the handmaids to fortune—the two great pillars of the farmer's prosperity. Never buy an article at auction because it goes cheap, unless you really need it. Instead of spending a rainy day at the grogshop, as many do to their ruin, repair whatever wants mending, or post your books. Never trust your money in the hands of that man, who puts his own to hazard. Whenever interest or a debt becomes due, pay it at the time, whether your creditor wants it or not. Remember that punctuality is not only the life of business, but a key to your neighbor's chest.—By following these directions—by constant temperance in your meats and drinks—by a habitual control over your passions—by moderation in exercise, and by an unaffected honesty in all your dealings, you will be enabled to avoid the fees of the lawyer and the sheriff—you will gain a good report among your acquaintances—will secure serenity of mind—probably add to your present existence ten years of active life—and increase abundantly your sum of happiness.

Methinks I see thee, Summer, spread
Thy rosy arms in wanton flight,
Changing thy vest, whenever led
By Nature through the fields of light.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

Behold bleak winter's rage, beyond the spring,
That rolling earth's unvarying course will bring,
Who tills the ground, looks on with mental eye,
And sees next summer's sheaves and cloudless sky ;
And even now, while nature's beauty dies,
Deposits seed and bids new harvests rise.

Summer has again wasted his strength—vegetation has lost its vigor, and the fallow leaf and the ripening fruit proclaim that the waning of the year has already commenced. See how the orchards are bending beneath their load, while the ground beneath them is literally strewed with the fallen fruit, which is mellowing in the sun. Shall I again tell you to secure your seed for planting another year? Yea: for I find line upon line and precept upon precept to be absolutely necessary in these degenerate times. Let your seeds be well dried, if on the stock, the better, and then lay them away in a dry place secure from the vermin. 'Tis true the expense of garden seeds is but a little, but it is well to remember that and that you must be careful and particular, if in your ambition to be in a state to manage important matters.

"Many a little makes a mickle,"

Hear old Jonathan: "If your neighbor's cattle break into your cornfield, look before you leap into the law. The law is a bottomless pit, in which justice is often swallowed up; and the plaguy lawyers—useful notwithstanding they be in cases of necessity—will help you neither into nor out of the law, for nothing. Once well in to the law, you will certainly wish yourself well out of it; and two chances to one if you do not come out with a lightened purse—yea, mayhap, through some small hole that your coat may even be stripped from your back." There is much truth in this, and so obvious to any man of common discernment as to need no comment.

Where last we met thy robe was like
The blush that tints the maiden rose,
But here the crimson glories strike
As rays with which the ruby glows.

FARMERS' CALENDAR.

Again the year's decline midst storms and floods,
The thundering chase, the yellow fading woods,
Invite my song; that fain would boldly tell
Of upland coverts and the echoing dell,
By turns resounding loud at eve and morn,
The swineherd's halloo, and the huntsman's horn.

Look now at the forests! See how the leaves wither, and fade, and fall to the ground. How great the contrast between the russet with which the forests are now clad, and their full, deep and lovely green of summer! But the blossoms and leaves are not the only objects which fade, and wither and die. A like fate—yea, a common and inevitable fate—awaits every sublunary object.

Man is born to die.

Where is now that beauty, who, a few years since, delighted the eyes and captivated the hearts of her beholders! Perhaps she is mouldering in yonder churchyard. If not, the youthful plumpness and the roseate tint, have long since been chased from her visage by the careworn furrows of age, and her countenance is already changed by the irresistible advances of the winter of life.

Secure your latter harvest in due season, and be reminded that there is a pilferer lurking around your premises and ready to snatch away every thing which is left within his reach. He has been known to steal whole fields of potatoes, and it is no uncommon thing at this late season of the year, to find him making depredations upon our gardens, especially if we have been negligent and gotten a little behind our business. If you would have your garden sauce safe, secure it in your cellars, and then secure your cellars from frost, for he is the noted pilferer. It is a fact, probably, and complimentary to the temperance societies, that comparatively little cider is made. If you can make a little, it will help to save or turn a penny in a very necessary article—vinegar.

But Autumn, why advance so fast ;
Why come with sullen brow ?
O let the charming season last
In a perpetual row.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

" Shorn of their flowers that shed the untreasured seed,
The withering pasture and the fading mead,
Less tempting grown, diminish more and more
The dairy's pride, sweet Summer's flowing store;
New cares succeed, and gentle duties press:
Our homes become a school of tenderness."

This month has been stigmatised as the saddest of the twelve sisters. It is represented as the season of frost and gloom, of hypo and suicide. It is true that November does not possess the gaiety and beauty of May, nor the softness and voluptuous charms of June—but, there is an honest and familiar frankness in her coming, which render her, uncouth and rude as her mein may be, a very agreeable visitant. She is like the buxom fair one of the by-gone times of our grand mothers—with tresses unadorned and with a homely garb,—but with a kindly spirit and a warm and generous heart.

Summer has departed with its gaiety and its sunny smiles, but has left us in return, our barns and our grainaries filled to overflowing with the good things of this life, and we are now called upon by the season of the year, by the example of our Puritan ancestors and by every other motive which can actuate a virtuous and generous soul, to lift our hearts in gratitude to Him who crowneth the year with his loving kindness, who rewardeth the confidence and the toils of the husbandman, and who scattereth his blessings with liberal hand.

Ten thousand precious gifts
Flow from his bounteous hand,
And these as months and days move on,
Our daily thanks demand,
But when the harvest home has come
And all its fruits are safe in store,
In union let our thanks ascend,
In union worship and adore.

Since custom is the powerful magistrate of man's life, let man, by all means, endeavor to obtain good customs.

But no ; the leaves from fading trees,
With rustling noise complain,
While from the North the Borean breeze
Drives fiercely o'er the plain.

FARMER'S CALENDAR.

" Ah how soon,

The shades of twilight follow hazy noon,
 But welcome, cold ; welcome, ye snowy nights !
 Heaven midst your rage shall mingle pure delights !
 The confidence of hope the soul sustains,
 While devastation sweeps along the plains ;
 Nor shall the child of poverty despair,
 But bless the Power that reeks the changing year."

But the year is fast drawing to a close, and the many things which I have to say, must be said in few words. And first mind your own business and let other folks alone—speak but little and let not that little respecting yourself, nor to the slander of your neighbors—listen when spoken to, and be polite to all—tell no lies, not even those called white lies—avoid wrangling, meddling and tittle tattle—trust not implicitly to any—beware of proffered friendship—set him down as a liar who swears to the truth of every thing he says—judge others by yourself—never be slothful, never be in a hurry—never be slovenly in your dress, never be a fop—avoid all kinds of vanity—neglect not an old acquaintance—be not witty at another's expense—pass no joke with a sting, say not all you think, not all all you know, use neither vulgar nor profane language, in fine, practice all the virtues—avoid all the vices—keep a memorandum book—enter on it all your transactions—reckon and settle with all the debtors with whom you have accounts—pay up all your bills and collect all your dues—and what is of equal importance, reckon with yourself—balance debt and credit—loss and gain, and see how you stand with the world—and not only with this world, but in relation to the world to come—all these things do and practice all day long, and your life shall glide on serenely, and thou wilt be prepared to enter upon another year, or upon another life as Providence may order—Farewell.

The man whose word can always be depended upon, is sure to be always honored.

Beauty cannot really exist without virtue.

— 10 and midnight	Rainy if s. or sw.	Rain or snow s., sw.
	Ditto	Ditto.
	Fair	Fair and frosty.

Observations. 1. The nearest the time of the Moon's change, first quarter, full and last quarter are to midnight, the fairer will the weather be during the 7 days following.

2. The space for this calculation occupies from ten at night till two next morning.

3. The nearer to mid day or noon the phases of the moon happen, the more foul or wet weather may be expected during the next seven days.

4. The space for this calculation occupies from ten in the forenoon to two in the afternoon. These observations refer principally to the summer, though they affect spring and autumn nearly in the same ratio.

5. The Moon's change, first quarter, full, and last quarter happening during six of the afternoon hours, i.e. from four to ten, may be followed by fair weather, but this is mostly dependent on the wind, as is noted in the table.

6. Though the weather, from a variety of irregular causes, is more uncertain in the latter part of autumn, the whole of winter, and the beginning of spring—yet, in the main, the above observations will apply to those periods also.

[For further observations, see Register, 1835, p. 42]

Total Grand List for 1887, $2,108,532 73

Population 1880, 280,635

NOTE. The grand list for the towns is given, with the exception of odd cents, on the list of 1887 for state tax, including half the two folds. The total of the counties includes the complete list of the several towns, except the odd cents in the total. Our counts would not admit the giving the cents. The grand total embraces the whole list complete, including half the two folds.

JUDICIARY DEPARTMENT.

The Judiciary powers of the State are vested in a Supreme Court consisting of five justices, chosen every year by the Legislature; a County Court, consisting of three justices, the chief justice being one of the justices of the Supreme Court, chosen in the same manner, who hold courts twice a year in their respective counties; and justices of the peace appointed in the same manner.

MORAL TABLE.

Temperance.—Eat not to dulness. Be temperate in all things.

Silence.—Speak nothing but what may benefit others, or yourself. Avoid trifling conversation.

Order.—Let all your things have their places. Let each part of your business have its time. Rise early and retire early.

Resolution.—Resolve to perform what you ought: perform, without fail, what you resolve.

Frugality.—Make no expense but to do good to others, or yourself, i. e. waste nothing. Be economical, so that you may be charitable.

Industry.—Lose no time; be always employed in something useful; cut off all unnecessary actions.—Use up the bits and ends of time.

Sincerity.—Use no deceit; think innocently and justly; and, if you speak, speak accordingly.

Justice.—Wrong none by doing injuries, or omitting the benefits that are your duty.

Moderation.—Avoid extremes. Forbear resenting injuries so much as you think they deserve. Cherish a steady zeal; a dignified self-respect.

Cleanness.—Tolerate no uncleanness in body, clothes, or habitation.

Tranquility.—Be not disturbed at trifles, or at accidents common or unavoidable.

Chastity.—Carefully shun the company of such as are sensual or obscene; and let every thought, word and action be regulated by a proper regard for modesty.

Humility.—Imitate Jesus. Great and good men are humble.

Benevolence.—Prove your love of God by your generosity and usefulness to mankind.

Piety.—Trust, revere and love your heavenly Father.
